Subject to the prior approval of the Superintendent of Banks and the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of its directors, a bank or trust company may purchase in one transaction 100 percent of the outstanding shares of any state bank or of a national banking association, or trust company operating in this State, in accordance with a plan by which:

MOTION TO PRINT CAPITAL OUTLAY REPORT IN THE JOURNAL

Senator Hatfield moved that the following report of the Legislative Auditor referred to in Amendment No. 482 to Assembly Bill No. 500 this day adopted by the Senate concerning Proposed Capital Outlay Program, be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE AUDITOR

May 29, 1951

Although the capital outlay request for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year contemplated a continuation of the postwar building program, it was of necessity much more restricted in scope than previously since the Postwar Employment Reserve had been exhausted and sources of building funds were primarily limited to new General Fund revenues. The program for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year was the smallest proposed for the past five fiscal years and constituted a very substantial reduction from that budgeted for the 1950-51 Fiscal Year. The total of new major projects which have been budgeted from the General Fund is approximately $25,000,000. This is less than the amount which the administration has considered necessary to keep abreast of the normal capital outlay requirements of the State, without making any allowances for correcting the deficiencies in the existing capital outlay requirements of the State.

Despite the fact that the budget request, for the most part, can be considered to represent reasonably minimum needs for capital outlay expenditures for 1951-52, the problem which has been presented to the Senate Finance Committee in considering this budget request has become considerably broader in scope, and because of factors which have largely come about during the past year it has been necessary to include in the committee's report on capital outlay not only those items which have been originally budgeted for 1951-52 but to include a re-evaluation of all projects which, although previously appropriated for, have not yet gone to bid, and are therefore available for reappropriation by the Legislature.

The policy determinations which are recommended by the committee on this program will also presumably be applicable not only for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year but for future fiscal years as well.

The primary factor which has made it necessary for consideration to be given to reconsidering existing appropriations as well as proposed appropriations is the fact that very few of the existing or proposed projects can be adequately financed on the basis of the amounts scheduled because of the rapid increase in costs arising from the inflationary factors which have followed the outbreak of hostilities in Korea. The California Construction Cost Index has risen from approximately 550 in June, 1950, to approximately 650 in April, 1951, with indications that the index will continue to advance to an estimated 675 by the fall of 1951. In order for this program to be financed, it is apparent that additional funds must be made available for the purpose of augmenting existing or proposed appropriations, or a portion of the program must be deferred and funds which are made available by that means transferred to projects determined to be more essential. The Senate Finance Committee also took into consideration the problem of the extent to which the State should compete with the Federal Government for materials and labor needed to further the national mobilization program. Evidence of the government's interest in the construction field is shown by the controls imposed by the National Production Authority. These controls make it reasonably apparent that a portion of whatever projects are approved by the Legislature for 1951-52 will not be carried to completion. From the standpoint of sound accounting practice, the committee gave consideration to the final elimination of the Postwar Employment Reserve and the consolidation of existing fund arrangements into a single new capital outlay fund from which all subsequent appropriations will be made and to which all unspent balances will revert. Attached hereto as an exhibit is an historical analysis of the revenues for and appropriations from the Postwar Employment Reserve.

In making a determination as to the projects which it is recommending be appropriated for and those which it is recommending be deferred, the Senate Finance Committee considered approximately $120,000,000 in proposed capital outlay expenditures.

As of May 1, 1951, there were approximately $95,000,000 worth of projects which were not yet under way but for which appropriations had already been made either from the Postwar Employment Reserve or from the General Fund. This group included projects for the University of California. Appropriations for these projects have been based on estimates made at a California Construction Cost Index which averages approximately 550 for this group.

Since projects in this group would not go to bid until some time after May 1, 1951, and since the California construction cost index as of April 1st was approximately 650, the great majority of projects in this group will require either some form of augmentation or a reduction in scope in order to be able to complete the projects within the money appropriated.

The Governor's Budget for the 1951-52 Fiscal Year as originally presented contained approximately $25,000,000 of new major projects which are to be payable from the General Fund. The amounts contained in the budget for each item are based on a California construction cost index of 600. It has become clear that by the time these projects reach the point of actual construction, they too will need some form of augmentation or a reduction in scope in order to complete the construction within the money requested for appropriation. The total of these two groups representing approximately $120,000,000 will require more augmentation than can be provided from available funds or anticipated surpluses. In view of this situation and also because it is the desire of the Senate Finance Committee that the State's demand for scarce manpower and materials shall be restricted to items of clearly established need, the committee reviewed all of the individual projects contained in these two groups to determine those which can be deferred and to recommend those for which sufficient augmentation funds can be made available. As a result of this review it has been determined that approximately $67,310,000 of previously appropriated projects and $14,500,000 of new projects will be recommended for construction, and be augmented, and $28,240,000 of previously appropriated projects and $10,400,000 of new projects will be recommended for deferral, the savings to be placed in a new reserve fund tentatively to be named the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund.

In order to completely eliminate the dangling ends of the old Postwar Employment Reserve, it is also recommended that all projects which are allowed to go ahead be transferred from either the Postwar Employment Reserve or General Fund, as the case might be, into the new Capital Outlay and Savings Fund and the projects made payable therefrom. These projects would also be made payable without regard to fiscal years, although some form of limitation would also be imposed.

The projects which would be permitted to go ahead total approximately $82,000,000 of which approximately $15,000,000 for the University of California and the new state college at Long Beach should not require any augmentation, as it was previously anticipated that the Long Beach State College would build as far as the appropriation would allow, and the University of California would augment from its own funds, from accrued interest, and from savings in some projects. This would leave a balance of approximately $67,000,000 requiring augmentation. Of this total it is recognized that certain projects will probably not be allowed by the National Production Authority to proceed and it was determined that an augmentation from a California construction index of 550 to an anticipated 675, or about 25 percent augmentation for $60,000,000 of approved projects, would be sufficient. This amounts to $15,000,000 for augmentation purposes.

In addition, it was determined by the committee that $4,000,000 was necessary to defray the cost of the most urgent deferred maintenance items at all state institutions. The total of these two items, or $19,000,000, would be payable from the new Capital Outlay and Savings Fund.

At the present time, based upon the most recent information available, it would appear that revenues for 1950-51 will exceed those estimated in the budget by at least an amount sufficient to provide for this $19,000,000. If such is the case, this will leave to accrue to the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund the amounts which are eliminated from the budget and from projects previously authorized. It is recognized by the committee that many if not all of the projects which have been deferred are a basic part of the total capital outlay needs of the State and that some provision should be made to permit, so far as is possible and feasible, a continuing construction program. For that reason, the committee recommends that the total of deferred projects amounting to approximately $39,000,000 should be placed in the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund subject to appropriation by subsequent Legislatures as they determine the need for individual projects and establish the amounts which may be required for augmentation of those which are approved.

It is recognized that future Legislatures will be faced with the fact that continued growth of the State will require certain expenditures annually in capital outlay expenditures in order to keep pace with the growth of the State, apart from those capital outlay expenditures that are determined to be necessary to eliminate the existing backlog of projects. Such additional sums as future Legislatures determine are necessary to carry out or augment this program would be added to the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund, and, with the exception of those projects which are payable from special funds, such as Fish and Game Fund, State College Fund, etc., it is anticipated that all capital outlay appropriations, both major and minor, would become payable from this single fund. By this method, reversions from projects would accrue to the fund and become available for future appropriations for capital outlay purposes.

The following tabulations list the individual projects which were reviewed by the Senate Finance Committee and indicate those which are recommended to proceed immediately and those which are recommended to be set aside in the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund for future consideration. The amounts listed for each individual project are subject to final bookkeeping determinations, but the projects listed represent the complete status of the items considered by the committee.

POSTWAR EMPLOYMENT RESERVE

An Historical Analysis of Revenues to and Appropriations From the Reserve From the Creation in 1943 to June 30, 1951

HISTORICAL ANALYSIS OF STATE POSTWAR EMPLOYMENT RESERVE

(The Capital Outlay Program)

PRELIMINARIES

In January of 1943, the California State Planning Board, employing a staff of consultants and technicians, published a proposed state capital improvement program and recommendations covering the period 1943 to 1945. Included in this report was a list of projects characterized as urgent, and suggested courses of policy and action as to present and future public works programs. Although the report was geared to conditions as related to wartime limitations, Appendix "A" of the report contained a review of individual projects which were considered to be basic essential needs. At the same time, the report went further to recommend that provision be made for completion of a 10-year state public works plan and the establishment of a public works committee to determine over-all priorities in state construction with such surveys and plans as would be necessary.

The total of projects contained in the report amounted only to approximately 4 percent of the average amount spent for capital improvements during the five bienniums preceding 1943, and for that reason did not represent a long-range program. The report of the Director of Finance to the Extraordinary Session of the Legislature in January, 1946, which outlined a program of capital expenditures totaling $154,000,000 and which was supported by a detailed list of projects by agencies in order of relative priority represented in a greater sense the first such program of long-range requirements.

LEGISLATION

The Postwar Employment Reserve was created by Chapter 572, Statutes of 1943, as an earmarked amount set aside in the General Fund "in order to meet the needs of the State for construction and rehabilitation of buildings and facilities when materials and skilled labor are once more available, and to provide postwar employment for citizens released from the armed forces and private enterprise following relaxation of the war effort."

Funds Provided

Funds deposited in the Postwar Employment Reserve are made up of the following:

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

*Hon. Goodwin J. Knight, President of the Senate
And Members of the Senate*

Your Special Committee on Civil Defense created by Senate Resolution No. 12, herewith submits as a supplement to its Partial Report the status to date of congressional action on proposed federal appropriations for Civil Defense, together with extracts from the remarks before this committee of the Honorable Elmer J. Robinson, Mayor of the City of San Francisco.

GEORGE J. HATFIELD, Chairman

In January, 1951, the Federal Civil Defense Administration proposed to Congress a $37,000,000,000 plus Civil Defense Program. Of this amount $1,125,000,000 was proposed as federal grants for protective construction, $100,000,000 for heavy equipment, $400,000,000 for critical materials stockpiles, and $32,000,000 for communications. It was proposed that 46 percent, or $1,425,000,000, of the total cost of the program was to be paid by the State and local governments.

By January 24th this proposal had been reduced by the administration to $275,000,000, to be spent in an 18-month period, $450,000,000 to be appropriated in 1952 and $72,000,000 in R.F.C. loans for shelter construction.

By February, Defense Administrator Caldwell had indicated the bomb shelter construction program was to be abandoned.

In March Congress was asked to consider an appropriation of $403,000,000 for the remainder of 1951 and the 1952 Fiscal Year. This amount represented $250,000,000 for bomb shelters, $11,450,000 for mobile support, $113,700,000 for fire and communications equipment and first aid supplies, $25,000,000 for procurement and the balance for administration.

In April the House Appropriation Committee recommended an appropriation of $186,750,000 to carry through the Fiscal Year 1952. Of this $75,000,000 was for bomb shelters, $100,000,000 was for reserve to be used only in time of declared emergency. This left slightly less than $12,000,000 for administration and purchase of organizational equipment.

In May the Senate reduced this amount further by declaring the $100,000,000 reserve was not an appropriation and chopping from the remaining $86,750,000 to leave only $84,000,000.

As of June 1st conferees of both Houses of Congress had reached agreement on a Civil Defense Program calling for an appropriation of $31,750,000 for fiscal 1951. Of this $25,000,000 was designated for federal contributions, $5,000,000 for a procurement revolving fund and the remainder for operations. However, no funds were included for research which had been proposed including the development of a shelter program.

The $25,000,000 for federal contributions is earmarked $20,000,000 for medical stockpiling and $5,000,000 for education and training of "the man in the street."

Completely eliminated have been all federal contributions for shelters and for welfare stockpiling. Also eliminated are federal contributions for organizational equipment and supplies. Nothing is provided for sirens, fire fighting, warden or rescue equipment.

Also eliminated is any present hope for retroactive federal contributions for local government purchases already made for "approved" items.

Pointing up the long delay in the development of the Civil Defense Program on the federal level, the impossibility for the State and local governments to undertake any Civil Defense Program requiring substantial funds, and the soundness of the recommendation for the State and local governments to develop those phases of the Civil Defense Program which can be undertaken without the expenditure of large amounts, are the remarks to this committee on March 1, 1951, of the Honorable Elmer J. Robinson, Mayor of the City of San Francisco, which city has made excellent progress with its Civil Defense Program on a local level.

Statement of Hon. Elmer J. Robinson, Mayor, City of San Francisco, Before the Senate Special Committee on Civil Defense

March 1, 1951

Civil Defense touches the life of every man, woman and child in California, and we welcome the spirit with which this honorable committee of the Senate has come into San Francisco to determine what action the State Government may take to make our local Civil Defense Program really effective.

Putting it another way, you have come here to discover if there is any point in our Civil Defense planning at which failure to provide state aid would result in the breakdown of local Civil Defense under conditions of attack.

You have undoubtedly read, as I have, the press releases of Federal Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, datelined Washington, February 23, 1951—less than a week ago—wherein he said that Russia has the power to bomb any one critical target in the United States, or all at the same time. He added, and I quote: "There is nothing we can do to stop their attack if they are determined to make it. We have reached the point in this Country where we must move as rapidly as we can plan soundly."

He was further quoted as saying, "We may as well face the facts and prepare to meet them."

And finally, he was quoted as saying that the United States must have a Civil Defense organization "in being by the end of this year."

In a dispatch datelined New York, February 26, 1951, Mr. Caldwell is quoted as saying that he believes Russia "can deliver a fatal attack" any day it wants, adding that the attack would be fatal insofar as many hundreds of thousands of people are concerned. And, on that same day, February 26, 1951, another Associated Press dispatch datelined Boston, February 26, 1951, quotes Mr. Caldwell as saying of a Russian atomic attack in force on a dozen or more major American cities, "There is nothing we can do to stop them."

Everyone of those statements is a repetition, after the lapse of almost a year, of what I and others were telling the people in 1950.

Repeating those statements now, after the days and weeks and months that have elapsed since they were first uttered as a warning, makes me wonder if defeatism, fatalism and futility are controlling the Federal Government's Civil Defense Program.

The cities you have visited are not bogged down in a swamp of defeatism.

We are not afraid to face the facts, but I think we have reason to be concerned when the head of Civil Defense in this Country emphasizes, at this late date, that we must have a Civil Defense organization "in being by the end of this year."

That attitude, gentlemen, is deeply disturbing because it's been over five years since the atomic explosions at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. It is more than three years since the experimental explosions at Bikini. And yet, here we have the top Civil Defense official of the United States announcing that we must have an organization in being by the end of 1951, and is reported as confessing difficulty obtaining competent personnel for the federal Civil Defense Program! I don't know how long Washington feels that the people of this Country will tolerate its failure to provide a specific program of Civil Defense.

On April 3d of 1950, in testifying before the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, I urged that committee to speed up the federal program because state and local programs of Civil Defense were necessarily geared to the federal program, and, up to that time, no worthwhile action had been taken. The very next day, on April 4th, Hon. Carl Vinson, Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said in a public statement that we can expect an atomic Pearl Harbor.

On April 18, 1950, Hon. W. Stuart Symington, then Secretary of the Air Force, later Chairman of the National Security Resources Board, spoke in San Francisco, and he stated, and I quote:

1. "Behind their Iron Curtain there has been an atomic explosion;
2. "Behind that curtain is the air equipment capable of delivering a surprise atomic attack against any part of the United States;
3. "Today, the United States has no adequate defense against such an attack."

On April 25, 1950, two months to the day before the outbreak of war in Korea, in a special radio talk to the people of San Francisco, I announced that because the Federal Government had taken no action worth the name regarding Civil Defense, I was calling the mayors of the primary target cities of the Pacific Coast, together with the top Civil Defense officials of the three Pacific states, to a brass-tacks conference herein San Francisco on June 12th and June 13th—the first, and, I believe, the only—regional Civil Defense conference held in the United States.

On May 17, 1950, I spoke before the United States Conference of Mayors in New York City, warned that we were liable to be hit by a sneak attack, that as of that date the Federal Government was still shuffling papers and sleep-walking in this matter of Civil Defense, and had up to that time failed to give the governors of American states and mayors of American cities any realistic basis upon which they could proceed to plan the Civil Defense of their people in event of atomic attack.

On June 1, 1950, two Associated Press dispatches out of Washington dealt with the general defense picture, one of them reporting that the then Secretary of Defense asked for a three-year extension of the draft with no strings attached, and the second that the President had asked the Congress for $1,222,500,000 to help rearm nations around the world against what he called the "increasingly bold and menacing" activities of Communist Russia. The President was reported in that same dispatch as telling the Congress that "the need and urgency for protecting the ramparts of freedom have never been more plain." A United Press dispatch datelined Washington, June 9th, reported that four ranking military leaders warned Congress that the United States was not then strong enough to fight a major war, and General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, reportedly declared that United States air defenses must be put on a 24-hour alert basis because Russia would soon be able to launch an atomic attack.

Last year, and not now, is when we reached the point in this Country where we should have moved as rapidly as we could plan soundly!

On June 12 and June 13, 1950, less than two weeks before the outbreak of war in Korea, our original conference was held in San Francisco, and I warned the distinguished gentlemen in attendance that it was up to us to proceed as fast as we could—with or without federal assistance—in planning for Civil Defense.

Before and since that time, I and others have taken every opportunity to warn our people that Civil Defense is a must for every American community, and it is most disheartening to find that the federal Civil Defense chief, less than a week ago, emphasizes that our Country must have a Civil Defense organization "in being by the end of this year."

Only a week ago, General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Commanding General of all the United States Air Forces, announced through the Saturday Evening Post and various newspapers, that no matter what we do in the United States to intercept and smash an enemy attack, 70 percent of the enemy's bombers will get through to the target of their choice in the United States.

Now, either we need a Civil Defense Program, or we don't. If we don't need one, then let's quit talking about it. But, if we do need one, then let Washington get into action and stop the dreary repetition of statements made a year or more ago, and give us action. The cities of this Country and the states of this Country would be almost at a standstill in matters of Civil Defense if their operations were geared to the pace set by the Federal Government.

But, San Francisco hasn't waited and hasn't stood idly by, as your honorable committee will see from the testimony of Admiral Cook and his staff.

Now, let me give you an example of how the Federal Government has retarded and delayed state and local Civil Defense planning.

The Federal Government has been promising for more than a year and is still indicating that it is going to cover every phase and every aspect of Civil Defense planning. But the Federal Government hasn't told my city or any other city, "You are primarily responsible for this part of the Civil Defense Program, and we will concentrate on the other phase." The Federal Government hasn't told the states, "You get to work on this part of the program, and we will concentrate on the other part of the program." Oh, no. The only clear implication is that the Federal Government will take charge of everything and that we must not move in the cities and the states until the Federal Government tells us how and when and where we shall move.

That's good enough, except that the Federal Government, by claiming jurisdiction over everything in Civil Defense, has made the cities and the states of this Country play that old Army game of "hurry up and wait." We've hurried, but we are still waiting, and, from the looks of things, we will probably wait until the end of this year.

I believe, therefore, that the first objective which this committee might tackle is this: Have the State define the areas of primary responsibility and primary jurisdiction as between State Government, local government and Federal Government with regard to Civil Defense planning.

Let me remind you that somebody along the line in the federal set-up was recently talking a great deal about putting a couple of billion dollars of the people's money into a bomb shelter program. Only the most impractical visionary would ever seriously consider the construction of huge public bomb shelters.

First of all, the time involved in such a project, the enormous amount of advance planning, the manpower and the materials required, might, over a period of years, result in the construction of some kind of public shelter, but it should have been as obvious to them as it was to others, as well as myself, that spending a couple of billion dollars and Lord knows how much time, precious and irreplaceable time, on such a project, was absolute folly even to consider. Now, at last, in February, of 1951, we find that Mr. Caldwell announces that any idea of a "deep shelter" program is being abandoned because of extreme cost and the time and manpower required.

If we have much more of this kind of suspended animation with regard to Civil Defense at the federal level, we are going to find ourselves strictly on our own, without benefit of advice, planning or tangible assistance from the Federal Government.

Now, what practical suggestions do I have to make to this committee?

I suggest that a sharp definition of responsibility between local, state and federal authorities be made with regard to Civil Defense activities. Specifically, a contract should be entered into between the Federal and the State Governments for the strategic location, away from primary target areas, within the State of California of stockpiles of supplies and equipment which would be required by primary target areas within this State in event of enemy attack.

Prior to any contractual arrangements between the Federal Government and the State Government regarding the strategic location of such stockpiles, a very careful survey should be made, first of the areas which can be logically classified as primary target areas, and then of the best locations, from the viewpoint of security and accessibility to the target areas, for the stockpiling of emergency supplies. Clearly, we cannot and should not ignore the location of stockpiles, for the availability of supplies and equipment can very well determine the restorative action of any city that might be hit. I know that I would not want the equipment and the supplies we would need to restore San Francisco stockpiled anywhere in this city. This is a question, gentlemen, which I submit to your very serious consideration as one of the utmost and primary importance.

Secondly, I recommend that the State and Federal Governments jointly acquire, and, by firm agreements, place at strategic points an appropriate number of complete mobile blood banks and blood processing facilities, to gather blood, process it, deliver it and dispense it in stricken areas. These mobile blood banks should not be the property of any particular city, but should be acquired and operated through agreements between the state and federal authorities. They should be stored in various strategic locations, held at all times in readiness to be dispatched to whatever areas might suffer an enemy attack.

Thirdly, I suggest that the State of California should expedite the extremely important matter of workable mutual aid arrangements between the various counties of California, and specifically, between those counties designated primary target areas and their neighbors.

This should very probably include an inventory of all hospital and first-aid facilities available in those counties adjacent to primary target areas, so that the kind and amount of assistance available to the seriously wounded, who might have to be evacuated, would be known in advance.

Further, I suggest that mutual aid arrangements between California and her neighboring states be entered into and ratified at the earliest possible moment so that we shall all know precisely what kind of aid will be available from those sources.

I suggest further that this honorable committee inquire into the arrangements made or to be made by the State of California for the transportation of foodstuffs and other necessities into a stricken area. On the matter of transportation facilities in general, I would suggest that those facilities normally operating on an intercommunity basis, should be coordinated, at least on a regional level, looking to service in time of emergency.

We have found in San Francisco that this question is not one which contemplates planning and action only on the part of governmental jurisdictions, but that for an all-out Civil Defense Program, the active interest and cooperation of industry and labor must also be solicited and, in my judgment, they must be taken into a full partnership in the planning and organization of a workable Civil Defense force on a state level.

It is perfectly evident that, for example, privately-owned trucks will be in critical demand in event of an attack, and the trained and skilled men who operate them will be in demand to the same degree. Consequently, I urge that in whatever planning the State of California may undertake, both industry and labor be taken into an active partnership.

Rear Admiral Albert G. Cook, director of San Francisco's Disaster Council and Corps, and his staff who are present today and who are at your complete service, will discuss with you in detail the plans and the organization and the accomplishments of San Francisco thus far.

I would like to conclude my remarks with this note: The time, the energy and the money we spend upon Civil Defense is like the money we spend for fire and accident insurance. We pay it, but we hope and pray that we shall never have any return on our investment. This question directly and personally touches every man, every woman and every child in the various communities of California.

It isn't an academic question, but it is as real as the bloodshed, the pain and the suffering which it is designed to prevent.

There is no room in Civil Defense thinking for defeatism, fatalism or a feeling of futility. This program must be sparked by an attitude that is active and aggressive in providing our people with every possible means for their protection and with every possible facility to care for our wounded and to restore the facilities of community life.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

SENATE CHAMBER
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, June 7, 1951

Hon. Gordon J. Knight, President and Members of the Senate

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 40 of the 1949 Regular Session, your Interim Committee on Public Lands transmits herewith its report on findings and recommendations pertaining to the public lands problem of the State.

The report is more in the nature of a progress report than a presentation of conclusive findings. Although similar committees of Congress have conducted studies from the national level, this committee was the first endeavor of the California State Senate. The committee, then, was confronted with a broad, amorphous field heretofore untouched except in certain aspects by previous committees, such as Revenue and Taxation, Water Resources and Forestry. In two years time, because of the many elements of the problem, economic and social as well as political, the committee could do little more than prove what the Senate indicated it suspected by forming the committee: that a thorough appraisal should be made of the lands of the State both from the standpoint of land use and the fiscal relationship between the different levels of government, if California is to take her rightful place in the economy of the Nation.

It is believed that the report tendered will demonstrate the myriad of problems presented to the State by reason of public land ownership, and, on the basis of these findings, it would appear that the Senate should go forward in formulating a constructive program to alleviate these problems.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN J. REGAN, Chairman
LOUIS G. SUTTON, Vice Chairman
HAROLD T. JOHNSON
FRED H. KRAFT
CLARENCE C. WARD

Letter of transmittal ordered printed in the Journal and Partial Report ordered printed in the Appendix to the Journal.

Motion to Print Additional Copies

Senator Regan moved that 2,500 additional copies of the Partial Report of the Senate Interim Committee on Public Lands be printed for distribution.

Motion carried.

shall state the names and addresses of all employers, the places of employment, and the approximate periods of employment where the employee was exposed to the hazards of the occupational disease. If the application is not so prepared or omits necessary and proper employers, any interested party, at or prior to the first hearing, may request the commission to join as defendant any necessary or proper party. If such request is made prior to the first hearing on the application, the commission shall forthwith join the employer as a party defendant and cause a copy of the application together with a notice of the time and place of hearing to be served upon such omitted employer, provided such notice can be given within the time specified in this division. If such notice cannot be timely given or if the motion for joinder is made at the time of the first hearing, then the commission, panel, commissioner, or referee before whom the hearing is held, if it is found that the omitted employer named is a necessary or proper party, may order a joinder of such party and continue the hearing so that proper notice may be given to the party or parties so joined. Only one continuance shall be allowed for the purpose of joining additional parties. Subsequent to the first hearing the commission shall join as a party defendant any additional employer when it appears that such employer is a proper party, but the liability of such employer shall not be determined until supplemental proceedings are instituted.

In any case involving a claim of occupational disease contracted as a result of more than one employment, the employee making the claim, or his dependents, may elect to proceed against any one or more of the employers named in the application. Where such an election is made, the employee must successfully prove his claim against any one of the employers named, and any award which the commission shall issue awarding compensation benefits shall be a joint and several award against any two or more employers who may be held liable for compensation benefits. If, during the pendency of any claim wherein the employee or his dependents has made an election to proceed against one or more employers, it should appear that there is another proper party not yet joined, such additional party shall be joined as a defendant by the commission on the motion of any party in interest, but the liability of such employer shall not be determined until supplemental proceedings are instituted. Any employer joined as a defendant subsequent to the first hearing or subsequent to the election provided herein shall not be entitled to participate in any of the proceedings prior to the commission's final decision, nor to any continuance or further proceedings, but may be permitted to ascertain from the employee or his dependents such information as will enable the employer to determine the time, place, and duration of the alleged employment. On supplemental proceedings, however, the right of the employer to full and complete examination or cross-examination shall not be restricted.

At any time within one year after the commission has made an award for compensation benefits in connection with an occupational disease, any employer held liable under such award may institute proceedings before the commission for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or a right of contribution. Such a proceeding shall not diminish, restrict, or alter in any way the recovery previously allowed the employee or his dependents, but shall be limited to a determination of the respective contribution rights, interests or liabilities of all the employers joined in the proceeding, either initially or supplementally; provided, however, if the commission finds on supplemental proceedings for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution that an employer previously held liable in fact has no liability, it may dismiss such employer and amend its original award in such manner as may be required.

In any proceeding before the commission for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution where any employee incurred a disability or death resulting from silicosis in underground metal mining operations, the determination of the respective rights and interests of all of the employers joined in the proceedings either initially or supplementally shall be as follows:

(a) All employers whose underground metal mining operations resulted in a silicotic exposure during the period of the employee's employment in such operations shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of compensation and of medical, surgical, legal and hospital expense which may be awarded to the employee or his estate or dependents as the result of disability or death resulting from or aggravated by such exposure.

(b) If any of the employers who have not contributed to payment of the original award shall be without the commission's jurisdiction, or are dead, insolvent, or not subject to enforcement of awards against them for such contributions, either directly or through solvent insurance carriers, then upon such showing being made to the satisfaction of the commission, it shall make an award in favor of the employer or employers who have paid the original award, payable out of the fund used for payment of the additional compensation provided for in Section 4751 of this code, in an amount equal to the unreimbursed portions of the original payment or payments to which such employer or employers are found entitled as aforesaid. The use of the fund for such reimbursement in addition to the purposes specified in Section 4751 of this code is hereby authorized. The Legislature finds that as a matter of public policy and public welfare, sufferers from silicosis resulting from employment in underground metal mines should be compensated for such disability; that due to the peculiar nature of this disease it often does not manifest itself until long after periods of exposure have expired; that this frequently results in disability occurring in or after the last of a series of employments where such exposure existed; that underground metal mining is a class of industry having special character, both as to silicotic hazard and investment hazard; that the latter hazard has resulted in the past in closure of mines, disappearance or financial nonresponsibility of former owners or lessees of such mines and consequent inability of the commission to enforce against them compensation awards for proportionate liability in silicosis cases. It is inequitable that total ultimate liability should fall on one or more such employers who happen to be solvent or have solvent insurance carriers within the commission's jurisdiction or in reach of its process. Therefore the Legislature finds that, to the extent that the commission determines that proper contributions to a joint and several award for compensation for silicosis cannot be enforced against an employer who is or was engaged in underground metal mining for any of the above reasons, it shall direct that contribution shall be paid, either directly or by way of reimbursing any employer or employers who have paid said award, by payment from the fund provided for in Section 4751 of this code. Such payments or reimbursement for payments the Legislature finds will protect employees in the metal mining industry and will promote the general public welfare in mining communities.

(c) In making its determination in the supplemental proceeding for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution of percentage liabilities of the various employers engaged in underground metal mining operations the commission shall consider as a rebuttable presumption that employment in underground work in any mine for a continuous period of more than three calendar months will result in a silicotic exposure for the employee so employed during the period of employment if the underground metal mine was driven or sunk in rock having a composition which will result in dissemination of silica or silicotic dust particles when drilled, blasted or transported.

Any employer shall be entitled to rebut such presumption by showing to the satisfaction of the commission, or its referee, that the mining methods used by the employer in the employee's place of employment did not result during his employment in the creation of silica dust in sufficient amount or concentration to constitute a silicotic hazard. Dust counts, competently made, at such intervals and in such locations as meet the requirements of the Division of Industrial Safety for safe working conditions may be received as evidence of the amount and concentration of silica dust in the workings where such counts have been made at the time when they were made. The commission may from time to time, as its experience may indicate proper, promulgate orders as to the frequency with which such dust counts shall be taken in different types of workings in order to justify their acceptance as evidence of the existence or nonexistence of a silicotic hazard in the property where they have been taken."

The district shall have the power as limited in this act to do any and every lawful act necessary to be done, that sufficient water may be available for any present or future beneficial use or uses of the lands or inhabitants within the district, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, irrigation, domestic, fire protection, municipal, commercial, industrial and all other beneficial uses.

SEC. 4.1. The district shall have the power: to control flood and storm waters within the district and the flood and storm waters of streams outside of the district, which flow into the district; to conserve such waters by storage in surface reservoirs, to divert and transport such waters for beneficial uses within the district; to release such waters from surface reservoirs to replenish and augment the supply of waters in natural underground reservoirs; and otherwise to reduce the waste of water and to protect life and property from floods within the district; provided, that the district may not construct or acquire any works or undertake any project for flood control purposes, except in conjunction with and as part of the construction or acquisition of works or the undertaking of projects for the purposes enumerated in Section 4 of this act.

SEC. 4.2. The district shall have the power within or outside the district to construct, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire works, and to purchase, lease, appropriate, or otherwise acquire surface waters and water rights, useful or necessary to make use of water for any purposes authorized by this act.

SEC. 4.3. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the district shall have the power to appropriate water or acquire water rights only on behalf of lands not then included within the limits of any public corporation empowered to appropriate water, and the district shall promptly assign any such appropriation or water right to any such public corporation formed to include such lands; provided that at any time after July 1, 1951, the district shall have the further power to appropriate water or to acquire water rights to whatever extent and for whatever purposes all member units having an interest therein or affected thereby shall have agreed to in writing.

SEC. 4.4. The district shall have the power to operate, repair, improve, maintain, renew, replace and extend all works and property of the district.

SEC. 4.5. The district shall have the power to make surveys and investigations for works and projects and of the water supply and resources of the district, and to carry on and perform technical and other investigations of all kinds, make measurements, collect data and make analyses, studies and inspections pertaining to water supply, water, water rights, control of flood and use of water both within and without the district, and for these purposes the district shall have the right of access through its authorized representatives to all properties within the district.

SEC. 4.6. The district shall have the power to construct its pipes, pipe lines, canals, flumes and tunnels and other conduits, along, under or across any public road, street, alley, avenue, highway or sidewalk, or across any stream of water, watercourse, railway, canal ditch or flume which the route of said pipes, pipe lines, canals, flumes, tunnels or other conduits may intersect or cross; provided, such works are constructed in such manner as to afford security for life and property; and the district shall restore at its own expense any such crossings and intersections to their former state as near as may be, or in a manner not to have impaired unnecessarily their usefulness. Every company, municipality or district whose right of way shall be intersected or crossed by said pipes, pipe lines, canals, flumes, tunnels or other conduits shall unite with the district in forming such intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor.

SEC. 4.7. There is hereby granted to the district the right of way for the location, construction and maintenance of any and all of its works in, over and across public lands of the State of California, not otherwise disposed of or in use, not in any case exceeding in length or width that which is necessary for the construction of such works and adjuncts or for the protection thereof. Whenever any selection of a right of way for such works or adjuncts thereto is made by the district, the board of directors thereof must transmit to the State Lands Commission, the Controller of the State and the recorder of the county in which the selected lands are situated, a plat of the lands so selected, giving the extent thereof and the uses for which the same is claimed or desired, duly verified to be correct. If the State Lands Commission shall approve the selections so made, it shall endorse its approval upon the plat and issue to the district a permit to use such right of way and lands.

SEC. 4.8. If by any judgment in condemnation or by agreement the district shall be required to relocate any street, road, highway or railroad, subject or devoted to public use, the board shall have power to acquire in the name of the district by agreement or condemnation, all rights of way and other property necessary or proper for the compliance with said agreement or judgment and thereafter, and without further authorization, to make such conveyance of such relocated street, road, highway or railroad, as may be proper to comply with said agreement or judgment.

SEC. 5. The district shall have the power, but only as to member units, to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of water or any rights to the use of the works of the district for the conservation, control or transportation of water, and shall have the power to fix rates and charges for such purposes.

SEC. 5.1. The district shall have the power to enter into contracts with any member unit or with any district which thereby becomes a member unit of the district for any of the following purposes:

1. The lease, purchase, or other acquisition by the district of any of the works of such member unit or district.

2. The construction of works by the district for the conservation, regulation or transmission of water for the benefit of such member units; or for the furnishing or sale by the district or the United States to such member unit or by such member unit to the district of water or a water supply for any purpose; or for the assumption, by either the district or the member unit, as principal or guarantor or underwriter of indebtedness incurred on account of works or water furnished or sold to the agency or member unit.

3. The sale, lease or other disposition of water, water rights, and water storage facilities, or interests therein, by the district or by such member unit.

4. The operation of works and the delivery of water by the district or by such member unit; provided:

(a) The works shall be operated in conformity with the vested rights and appropriations of each of its member units having an interest therein.

(b) There shall be delivered to each member unit all water to which such member unit is entitled under the contract entered into by the district and such member unit.

(c) There shall not be delivered to any member unit more water than the amount to which such member unit is entitled under the contract entered into by the district and such member unit; provided that the release of water from any reservoir in the amount required to satisfy any vested right shall not constitute a delivery of water; provided further that any quantity of water assigned under Section 5.6 or released under Section 5.7 by one member unit to another member unit shall be delivered to the latter.

SEC. 5.2. The district shall have no power to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of water or of any right to the use of the works of the district for the conservation, control or transportation of water, except to member units and except as all member units having rights to such water or interest in such works shall grant such power by written contract; the power so granted shall be limited to the extent and by the conditions set forth in the most restrictive of such contracts.

SEC. 5.3. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the district shall have the power, in its discretion, to suspend delivery of water conserved by the district or obtained by or on behalf of the district or a member unit to any member unit during the period which said member unit is delinquent in its payments for or obligations due in respect of such water under any contract entered into by it with the district.

SEC. 5.4. The liability of each member unit, as distinguished from the liability of its taxpayers and property therein for taxes levied by the district for district purposes, shall be limited to that portion of the total cost for water or water supply or to that portion of the total cost of construction and the operation and maintenance cost of works acquired or constructed by or on behalf of the district or member unit which such member unit agrees to bear.

The liability of each member unit shall be set forth fully in a written contract which shall be legally approved by such member unit in accordance with the laws governing such member unit. No such contract shall be altered or modified without the consent of the district and the legal approval of such member unit.

Each such contract may provide among other things:

(1) The total capital obligation which the member unit agrees to bear.

(2) The minimum annual payments which the member unit shall make in amortization of its capital obligation.

(3) The quantity or pro rata portion of water which shall be delivered to or held in storage for the member unit.

(4) The basis of allocation of operation and maintenance costs to be borne by the member unit.

(5) The quantity or other measure of water supply or water agreed to be acquired by or furnished or sold to such member unit and the cost thereof to such member unit.

Such contract shall be fair and equitable to each contracting party, and no member unit shall receive any undue advantage over any other member unit having proper regard for all factors and conditions involved.

Such contracts shall be executed in accordance with the laws governing such districts.

SEC. 5.5. (a) In the event of any reduction in the principal of any debt of the district underwritten by one or more member units, other than by payment thereof, the amounts to be paid the district by each member unit in amortization of its remaining portion of such debt shall be reduced proportionately so that the relative obligations of each such unit shall be unchanged.

(b) In the event of any reduction in the rate of interest being paid on any part of a debt of the district for which one or more member units are responsible, the amounts to be paid the district by each such member unit shall be reduced proportionately so that the relative obligation of each such unit remains unchanged in respect to its obligation to pay any remaining interest.

SEC. 5.6. Any member unit may reduce its obligations under its contract with the district by assignment to another member unit of any part of its right to receive water under its contract; provided, that such assignment is legally approved, in accordance with the laws governing such member unit, by each member unit which is a party to such assignment; provided further, that the total of all payments to be made by such member units to the district shall not be reduced by virtue of such assignment; and provided further, that the assignor member unit may be required by the district to guarantee the payments assumed by the assignee member unit.

SEC. 5.7. (a) Any member unit may elect that any water to which it is entitled be held in storage in the district's reservoirs so long as there is unfilled capacity in the reservoirs from which such water would otherwise be withdrawn for delivery to it; provided, that if two or more member units desire simultaneously to store water as aforementioned and there is not sufficient capacity to accommodate such member units, the storage capacity shall be apportioned between them in accordance with the amount of capital cost of such reservoir they have respectively underwritten, or in accordance with the amount of water they have respectively contracted to purchase during the period of such storage.

(b) Any member unit may release for the use of any other member unit any amount of water which may then be held temporarily in storage for its account, and in such event the district shall deliver such water to such other member unit; but such delivery shall be deemed to be for the account of the member unit releasing such water.

SEC. 5.8. (a) If any capital asset of the district is sold or otherwise disposed of, the net proceeds therefrom shall be distributed to the member units, or applied against any liability of such member units to the district as by contract may be provided, in proportion which the amount contributed by each such member unit to the cost of such capital asset is to the total cost of such capital asset.

(b) However, if any liability on the part of the district and/or its member units for the original cost or any subsequent improvement or refinancing of such capital asset is not completely extinguished at or before the time of the aforesaid sale or other disposal thereof, the district shall have the power to apply as much of the proceeds of such sale toward the extinguishment of such liability as may be necessary. In extinguishing such liability, the proceeds of such sale shall be applied only as the interests and liabilities of the district and its member units shall appear.

SEC. 6. The district shall have the power to cooperate and contract with the United States under the Federal Reclamation Act of June 17, 1902, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto or any other act of Congress heretofore or hereafter enacted permitting cooperation or contract for the purposes of constructing works, whether for irrigation, drainage, or flood control, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of such works, or for a water supply for any purpose, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States, or for carrying out any of the purposes of the district, and to carry out and perform the terms of any contract so made; and for said purposes the district shall have in addition to the powers specifically set forth in this act, all powers, rights and privileges possessed by irrigation districts as set out in Chapter 2 of Part 6 of Division 11 of the Water Code, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6.1. (a) Each contract providing for repayment of the cost of any works, or for the payment of any water or water supply, which is entered into with the United States pursuant to this act, shall be authorized at an election, unless by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths (4/5) vote of the members of the board of directors, said board shall determine that all liabilities of the district thereby incurred can be repaid and liquidated both as to principal and interest from revenue derived from taxes levied pursuant to Section 10.1 and from payments to be made to the district by member units pursuant to written contracts providing for the payment currently of whatever amounts may be necessary to amortize the portion of said cost underwritten by said member units or providing for the payment currently of whatever amounts may be necessary to pay the portion of the cost of any water or water supply to be furnished or sold to such member units. Upon the adoption of such resolution the board of directors shall have the power on behalf of the district, without the necessity of an election, to enter into such a repayment contract or into such a contract for the purchase of water or a water supply with the United States, subject to all provisions of this act applicable to such contracts, except provisions requiring an election to authorize such contracts.

(b) Except as otherwise in this act provided, proceedings at the election shall be had insofar as applicable in the manner provided in the case of the issuance of district bonds, provided that all qualified voters of the district shall be entitled to vote in such an election.

Notice of the election shall contain, in addition to the information required in the case of bond elections, a statement of the maximum amount of money to be payable to the United States for construction purposes and cost of water supply and acquisition of property, exclusive of penalties and interest, and a general statement of the property, if any, to be conveyed by the district pursuant to the contract.

The ballots at the election shall contain a brief statement of the general purpose of the contract substantially as stated in the notice of election and the extent of the obligation to be assumed with the words "Contract—Yes" and "Contract—No" or "Contract and bonds—Yes" and "Contract and bonds—No", whichever may be applicable. A favorable majority of two-thirds (2/3) of the votes cast at such election shall be necessary to authorize the execution of the contract and/or issuance of the bonds.

SEC. 6.2. (1) All payments to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States, including payments of interest and principal on bonds deposited with or transferred to the United States, shall be paid so far as possible from revenue other than that derived from district taxes, unless otherwise provided by the contract or this act, and the balance, if any, of such payments shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes upon all taxable property within the district assessable for district purposes under the laws of the State, and the taxable property shall be and remain liable to be assessed and levied upon for the payments.

(2) Public land of the United States within the district shall be subject to assessment and tax for all purposes of contracts with the United States to the extent provided for by the Act of Congress approved August 11, 1916 entitled "An act to promote reclamation of arid lands," or any other law which may hereafter be enacted by Congress in the same relation, upon full compliance therewith by the district.

(3) All money collected in pursuance of the contract with the United States shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the district and held in a fund to be known as the "United States Contract Fund" to be used for payments due to the United States under the contract.

SEC. 6.3. The district shall have the power to cooperate, act in conjunction and contract with the United States, State of California, municipalities, and public districts of any kind, in the purchase and sale of water, in the acquisition of water or a water supply, in the construction of any works for the controlling of flood or storm waters in the district, or for the protection of property, watersheds, watercourses, highways and life, or for the purpose of conserving and transporting said waters for beneficial use, and for the use, operation, management and ownership of such works. The district also may make and perform any agreement with the United States, the State, any county, municipality, district of any kind, public corporation, any person or any number of them for the joint acquisition, disposition, or operation of any property or works or water or water supply of a kind which might be acquired, disposed of, or operated by the district.

Any county water district, water conservation district, municipality, flood control district, and any other district or political subdivision of the State empowered by law to appropriate water and deliver water to users shall have the power: (a) to cooperate, act in conjunction and enter into contracts with the district for all the purposes for which the district is empowered to cooperate, act in conjunction and contract with such districts, municipalities, and political subdivisions; (b) and to carry out the terms of such contracts.

SEC. 7. The board of supervisors of the county shall be, and they are hereby designated as, and empowered to act as, ex officio the board of directors of the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, and said board of directors is hereby authorized to adopt reasonable rules and regulations to facilitate the exercise of its powers and duties herein set forth. Each member of the board of supervisors shall serve without additional compensation for acting as a member of said board of directors, except such member shall be allowed his actual, necessary and reasonable traveling expenses. The directors shall elect a chairman, who shall preside at all meetings of the board and in case of his absence or inability to act, the members present must, by an order entered in their records, select one of their number to act as chairman temporarily. Any member of the board may administer oaths, when necessary in the performance of his official duties. A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and no act of the board shall be valid or binding unless a majority of all members concur therein.

SEC. 7.1. No director of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail of the County of Solano for not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and such conviction shall by operation of law work at a forfeiture of his office; provided that this section shall not be construed to apply to any contract made with a corporation for its general benefit where such a director is a minority stockholder therein.

SEC. 7.2. The county clerk, county assessor, county tax collector, county auditor, county treasurer, surveyor and county council of the county, their assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, shall be ex officio such officers, assistants, deputies, clerks and employees respectively of the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, and shall respectively perform, unless otherwise provided by said board of directors, without additional compensation the same various duties for the district as for the county in order to carry out the provisions of this act.

In the event any of the aforementioned county offices is consolidated, enlarged, abolished or changed, the duties thereof shall be performed for the district by the holder of the office to which such duties have been transferred as a result of such consolidation, enlargement, abolishment or change, and such latter officer, his deputies, clerks, employees and assistants, shall be respectively ex officio such officer, deputies, clerks, employees and assistants of the district.

In addition to the officers and employees herein otherwise prescribed, the board of directors may in their discretion appoint such other officers, attorneys, agents and employees (including county officers, agents and employees) for said board or district as in their judgment may be deemed necessary, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, said officers, attorneys, agents and employees to hold their respective offices or positions during the pleasure of said board; provided, no county officer, agent or employee shall receive additional compensation for acting as a district officer, agent or employee except his actual and necessary traveling expenses.

SEC. 8. All ordinances, resolutions, and other legislative acts for said district shall be adopted by the board of directors, and certified to, recorded and published, in the same manner, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, as are ordinances, resolutions or other legislative acts for the county.

The initiative and referendum powers are hereby granted to the electors of the district to be exercised in relation to the enactment or repealment of district ordinances in accordance with the procedure established by the laws of this State for the exercise of such powers in relation to counties.

SEC. 8.1. Claims against the district shall be prepared, presented, audited and allowed or disallowed in the same manner and within the periods of time specified in the laws of the State of California, now or hereinafter enacted, for the preparing, presenting, auditing, and allowance or disallowance of claims against counties.

SEC. 8.2. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately and by operation of law vest in the district, and shall be held by the district, in trust for, and is hereby dedicated and set apart to, the uses and purposes set forth in this act. The board of directors is hereby authorized and empowered to hold, use, acquire, manage, occupy and possess said property, as herein provided; and said board of directors may determine, by resolution duly passed and entered in their minutes that any property, real or personal, held by the district is no longer necessary to be retained for the uses and purposes thereof, and may thereafter sell or otherwise dispose of said property, or lease the same, in the manner provided by law for the disposition and sale of property of counties; provided that the title to real property, water rights or water works, shall not be conveyed or alienated except by a vote of the electors of an election held for that purpose.

SEC. 8.3. All contracts for the construction of any unit of work, except as hereinafter provided, estimated to cost in excess of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the manner hereinafter provided. The board of directors of the district shall advertise by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation or two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the district inviting sealed proposals for the construction of the work before any contract shall be made therefor, and may let by contract separately any part of said work. The board shall require the successful bidder to file with the board good and sufficient bonds to be approved by the board conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of the claims for labor and material in connection therewith, such bonds to contain the terms and conditions set forth in Chapter 3 of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code and to be subject to the provisions of this chapter. The board shall also have the right to reject any and all bids, in which case the board may advertise for new bids. In the event no proposals are received pursuant to advertisement therefor, or where the estimated cost of such work does not exceed the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or the work consists of emergency work necessary in order to protect life and property, the board of directors by unanimous vote of all members present may without advertising for bids thereto have said work done by force account. The district shall have the power the purchase in the open market without advertisement for bids thereof, materials and supplies for use in any work therewith either under contract or by force account.

The provisions of this section shall have no application to a contract entered into with the United States under the authority of this act, or to a contract authorized by a vote of the electorate of the district.

SEC. 9. The district shall not incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purposes exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year, and any indebtedness or liability incurred in violation of this section shall be absolutely void and unenforceable; provided that this section shall have no application to debts or liabilities incurred pursuant to the provisions of this act authorizing the issuance of bonds, the levying of special assessments, the execution of contracts with the United States nor to the incurring of any indebtedness or liability authorized by a vote of the electors of the district at an election held for such purpose.

SEC. 9.1. The aggregate of district indebtedness incurred pursuant to the provisions of this act authorizing the issuance of bonds, the levying of special assessments and the execution of contracts, shall not exceed a sum equal to: (1) That amount which can be repaid and liquidated as to both principal and interest in not to exceed forty (40) years by an annual tax at the rate of fifteen cents ($.15) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of all property in the district taxable for district purposes, measured by the assessment roll last equalized prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; plus (2) the amount of all capital obligations underwritten by member units of the district; plus (3) the amounts agreed to be paid by member units to the district or to the United States for water or a water supply.

SEC. 10. The district shall have the power as provided in this act to cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district and to accomplish the purposes of the district and of this act.

SEC. 10.1. If from any cause, the revenues of the district shall be, or in the judgment of the board of directors are likely to be, inadequate to pay the expenses, costs, liabilities and indebtedness of the district, the board of directors of the district shall have the power in any year to levy an ad valorem tax upon all taxable property in the district to pay the costs and expenses of said district and to carry out any of the objects, purposes or powers of this act; provided, however, that the aggregate taxes or assessments levied under this act for any one fiscal year shall not exceed fifteen cents ($.15) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the district exclusive of any tax levied to meet the bonded indebtedness of the district and the interest thereon duly authorized by a vote of the electors of the district, and exclusive of any special assessment levied to meet any indebtedness or contractual liability duly authorized by vote of the electors of the district, and exclusive of any tax levied for the payment of any portion of any indebtedness represented by capital obligations underwritten by member units or represented by the amounts agreed to be paid by member units for any water or water supply to be furnished or sold such member units.

Said taxes shall be levied and collected together with, and not separately from, taxes for county purposes, and the revenue derived from said taxes shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the district, and the board of directors shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said purposes.

SEC. 10.2. The district shall have the power to expend any or all of its funds as contributions in aid of: (a) The construction or payment of the cost of works; (b) the purchase or obtaining of water or a water supply; (c) or the payment of any liability assumed as principal, guarantor or underwriter on any indebtedness in connection with such construction, payment, purchase or obtaining; if such works are constructed or said water or water supply is obtained for or on behalf of the district or its member units.

Unless by a resolution adopted by a vote of four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) of the members of the board of directors, said board determines that facts exist which make a different allocation preferable in the best interests of the district, such contributions in aid of construction or of the payment of works or any liability assumed in connection therewith shall be in proportion to and for the same purposes as payments made in the same year by each member unit in amortization of a portion of the cost of such works, and such contributions in aid of the purchase or obtaining of water or a water supply or any liability assumed in connection therewith shall be in proportion to and for the same purposes as payments made in the same year by each member unit.

SEC. 10.3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, if in the judgment of the board the cost and expense of a supply of water to any member unit is greater than the ability of such member unit to pay and the board finds that a supply of water to such member unit will be of general benefit to the district, the board may by a four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) vote of its members direct the district to contribute from whatever funds may be available financial assistance to the extent that the board determines the district as a whole will be benefited. For the foregoing purpose, the board may contract with the member unit or with the United States, the State of California or any public agency supplying water or contracting to supply water to such member unit, to make said contribution and assistance annually for such period of time as the board may determine, not to exceed forty (40) years.

In addition to any other revenues that may be available the board may levy annually an ad valorem tax, as in this act provided, on all taxable property in the district for the purpose of raising sufficient moneys to pay such contribution of financial assistance.

SEC. 10.4. The district shall have the power to levy a special ad valorem tax on all the taxable property in any member unit whenever any such member unit is delinquent in any payment due the district by such member unit under any contract entered into by them. Such tax shall be levied only at a rate sufficient to raise an amount equal to the amount delinquent. Such tax shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner as general district taxes, and shall be paid into the county treasury to the account of the district and shall be used only to reduce the liability of such delinquent member unit.

No property in any portion of the district, other than that in the delinquent member unit, shall be liable for or taxed to pay for such delinquency.

SEC. 10.5. The provisions of law of this State, prescribing the priority, time and manner of levying, assessing, equalizing and collecting county property taxes, including the sale of property for delinquency, and the redemption from such sale, and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto, are, so far as they are applicable, and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted for the district and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act.

SEC. 11. The district shall have the power as provided in this act to borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidence of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness or lien that may exist against the district or property thereof.

SEC. 11.1. Whenever the board of directors shall determine that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay all or any part of the cost of acquisition or construction of any works for any of the purposes of the district, the said board may by resolution determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds in order to raise the amount of money necessary for such work and the denomination and rate of interest of said bonds, and said resolution shall generally describe said work. Said board shall cause a copy of said resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the office of the Recorder of Solano County within five (5) days after its passage. From and after said filing the said board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with said bond election.

(2) Thereafter, the board of directors may call a special election at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the district the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated.

(3) Said board of directors shall call such special election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of the district the proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness in the district in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the object and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the resolution adopted by the board of directors, and on file for particulars; and said ordinance shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work, the amount of principal of the indebtedness, to be incurred therefor and the rate of interest thereon, and what part of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, which shall not be less than one fortieth ($\frac{1}{40}$) of the whole amount of such principal indebtedness, and the proportion or part of such indebtedness to be underwritten by each member unit, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed six percent (6%) per annum. For the purposes of said election, the board of directors shall in said ordinance establish election precincts within the boundaries of the district and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election precincts in the district.

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State.

(4) Said board of directors shall cause a plan or plans to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said plan shall show the location of the proposed works and shall cause the said plan to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election.

(5) Said ordinance calling for such election shall prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district for three consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the district, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the district the last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places in the district for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds. If at such election two thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds of the district for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided.

SEC. 11.2. Whenever bonds have been authorized by the district and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as in this act authorized, and the board of directors shall by resolution determine that additional bonds shall be issued for carrying out any of the purposes of this act, said board of directors may again proceed as in this act provided, and issue bonds pursuant to Section 11.4, or if said section is not applicable, submit to the qualified voters of the district the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedure as in this act provided, and all the provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

SEC. 11.3. (a) The board of directors may by resolution submit to the electors of the district, a proposition for the issuance of new bonds for the purpose of refunding any or all of the bonds outstanding voted by such electors, which proposition may be voted on at any general or special election. The procedure upon such election shall be in accordance, so far as applicable, with the procedure upon an original issue of bonds, and the favorable vote of a majority of the electors voting upon the proposition shall be sufficient to authorize the issuance of refunding bonds. Such refunding bonds shall not bear a higher rate of interest than the bonds to be refunded and may be issued and sold in the manner and form prescribed for an original issue of bonds and may, if the holders of bonds of an original issue and board of directors so agree, be exchanged for such original bonds, provided that the face value of the refunding bonds so exchanged shall not exceed the face value of the original bonds. The board of directors may raise money to pay principal and interest of such refunding bonds in the same manner as prescribed for the payment of bonds of an original issue.

(b) When original bonds are issued by the board of directors without a vote of the electors, the board of directors may issue refunding bonds without calling an election for that purpose. The provisions of subsection (a) hereof (except in regard to elections) shall apply to such refunding bonds issued by the board of directors.

SEC. 11.4. In the event the board of directors shall determine by a resolution duly adopted by a four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) vote of the members of said board that a bonded indebtedness to pay the cost of acquisition or construction of any works for any of the purposes of the district or for refunding any outstanding bonds should be incurred and can be repaid and liquidated as to both principal and interest from revenues derived from taxes levied pursuant to this act and from payments required to be made to the district by member units pursuant to written contracts providing for the payment currently of whatever amounts may be necessary to amortize the portion of said cost underwritten by said member units, said board shall be vested with the authority to issue bonds of the district in such amount as can be so repaid and liquidated. Thereafter the board of directors may issue bonds without the necessity of an election, subject to all applicable provisions of this act pertaining to bonds and bonded indebtedness, except provisions requiring authorization of bonded indebtedness by an election.

SEC. 11.4a. The board of directors shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as the said board of directors may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of directors, and countersigned by the auditor of the county, and the seal of the district shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the auditor of the county by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case of any such officer whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 11.5. Any bonds, original or refunding, issued by the district, may be made callable by resolution of the board of directors, adopted at a time prior to the issuing of such bonds and providing for the calling and redemption of such bonds, in numerical order, or by lot, on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity, at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest. If any such bonds are so made callable, a statement to that effect shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of any such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district. The first publication of such notice shall not be less than 30 nor more than 90 days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption, if the district shall have provided funds available for payment of the principal and interest of the bonds so called, interest on such bonds shall thereafter cease.

SEC. 11.6. The board of directors may issue and sell the bonds of such district authorized as hereinbefore provided at not less than ninety-five percent (95%) par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the district for the uses and purposes of said bonds; and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of the county treasurer, and said funds shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects for which such bonds were issued, subject to the provisions in this act contained. Payments from said funds shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the county.

Said bonds shall be sold at a public sale to the highest bidder, after notice of such sale has been given by publication at least two times in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district at least one time prior to such sale and after such other notice as the board of directors may deem proper.

The manner of making, submitting and opening bids and conducting such sale and the terms thereof shall be determined by the board of directors. The said board is hereby given the right to reject any and all bids which in the judgment of said board are too low to be in the best interests of the agency.

SEC. 11.7. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act and the interest on such bonds if no other funds are available shall be paid by revenue derived from the tax authorized by Section 11.9 and all the taxable property within the district shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as in this act provided until such bonds and the interest are fully paid or the liability therefor legally discharged.

The accrued liability due on the bonds of any issue shall have preference in payment over the accrued liability due on the bonds of any subsequent issue.

SEC. 11.8. The repeal or amendment of this act, or the dissolution of the district created by this act, shall not in any way effect or release any of the property in the district from its liability on or from the obligations of any outstanding bonds or indebtedness or contracts for which such property is in any way security until all such bonds and outstanding indebtedness and contracts have been fully paid and discharged.

SEC. 11.9. The board of directors shall levy a tax or assessment each year upon all the taxable property in the district sufficient to pay such portion of the interest for that year upon bonds issued by the district, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy as cannot be paid from revenue due the district from member units pursuant to written contracts providing for the payment currently of whatever amounts may be necessary to amortize the portion of the cost underwritten by said member units of works financed by said bonds. Such tax shall be levied and collected together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of the county to the credit of the district, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purposes. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the treasurer of the county in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of said county.

SEC. 11.10. The district may bring at any time after the authorization of bonds or the levy of any special assessment or after the execution of any contract an action in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Solano, to determine the validity of the bonds or of the levy or of the contract. The action is in rem. Jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district and designated by the court in which the proceedings are pending. Jurisdiction is complete 10 days after the completion of the publication of summons. Before the expiration of the 30 days after jurisdiction is acquired any person interested may appear and contest the validity of the bonds or assessment or the contract. If no proceedings have been brought by the district pursuant to this section, any member unit, municipality, district or public agency or taxpayer may at any time within 30 days after the levy of any assessment or authorization of any bonds or execution of such contract bring an action in the said superior court to determine the validity of the assessment or bonds or contract. The district shall be a defendant. If more than one action is pending at the same time concerning similar contests provided for in this section, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The rules of pleading and practice not inconsistent with the provisions of this section are applicable to all actions or proceedings provided for by this section. In a contest provided for by this section, the court shall disregard any irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties. The judgment shall declare the bonds or levy or contract either valid or invalid. The costs of any hearing or contest may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court. Any party may appear at any time within 30 days after the entry of the judgment. No contest of any thing or matter herein provided shall be made other than in the time and manner in this section provided. In any such action all findings of fact or conclusions of the board upon all matters shall be conclusive unless the action was instituted within six months after the finding or conclusion was made.

SEC. 11.11. Any works for which bonds or contracts or special assessments are authorized under the provisions of this act shall be made in conformity with the report, plans and specifications theretofore adopted, as above specified, unless the doing of any such work described in said report shall be prohibited by law, or any incidental part of such work be rendered contrary to the best interests of the district by some change of conditions in relation thereto, in which event the board of directors by a four fifths (4/5) vote may order necessary incidental changes made in such proposed work or improvements and may cause any plans and specifications to be made and adopted therefor. In no event shall changes be made from such original plans, reports and specifications which would have any material effect on the purpose for which such works were intended or which would materially affect any obligations of or benefits to any member unit.

SEC. 11.12. The bonds of the district shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts and municipalities in the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in said bonds of the district, issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school district or municipalities, may by law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, such bonds of the district may be so used.

SEC. 11.13. All bonds issued by the district under the provisions of this act shall be free and exempt from all taxation within the State of California. It is hereby declared that the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation is a district, including a reclamation and irrigation district, within the meaning of Section 14 of Article XIII and Section 13 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California.

SEC. 11.14. Should a proposition for issuing bonds submitted to any election under this act fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified electors voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the board of directors of the district shall not for six months after such election call or order another election in the district for incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds under the terms of this act, either for the same objects and purposes, or for any of the objects and purposes of this act.

SEC. 12. The district shall have the power as provided in this act to levy special assessments for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district or to accomplish any of the purposes of the district.

SEC. 12.1. Whenever the board of directors shall determine by resolution that facts exist which make a special assessment preferable in the best interests of the district to incurring a bonded indebtedness for paying all or any part of the cost of any work or for carrying out any contracts for any purpose of the district, the board of directors may levy special assessments as hereinafter provided. The facts making such a special assessment preferable to a bonded indebtedness shall be stated in the resolution. Such special assessments shall be payable in equal annual installments over a period of not to exceed (40) years, and shall be levied only after being duly authorized by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) majority of the votes cast by the qualified electors of the district voting at an election held for that purpose.

Except as in this section otherwise provided, the procedure and requirements of this act for notices and elections for issuances of district bonds shall apply with like effect to special assessments levied hereunder. If such special assessments are to be levied in annual installments, the ballot shall specify the number of such installments.

The funds raised by said special assessments shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the district and said funds shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance calling such special assessment election. Payments from said fund shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the county.

The provisions of this act relative to taxes for the payments of bonds and the liability of property for the payment of such taxes shall apply with like effect to payment of special assessments levied hereunder, and to the liability of property for the payment of such special assessments.

SEC. 12.2. The board may cause the entire district to be divided into zones if, in its opinion, such division is necessary because of varying benefits to the property within the district and may fix the percentages of the sums to be raised under the provisions of this act from each of such zones for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds of the district or the indebtedness of the district.

The district may be divided into as many zones as may be deemed necessary and each zone shall be composed of and include all of the lands in the district, which in the opinion of the board will be benefited in substantially the same manner. Each zone shall be designated on a map or plat of the district filed in the office of the board and such designation shall show the separate boundaries of each zone and the statement of the percentages to be raised from each zone. Upon the filing of such map the board shall give notice to all persons interested in the district by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, once a week for three successive weeks, which notice shall designate the time and place of hearing by the board, at which time and place any person interested in the district may appear and object to the inclusion of his lands within the zones into which the district is divided, or to the percentage to be raised from each of said zones. All such objections shall be in writing, verified by the person or persons making the objection, and filed with the board on or before the date fixed for such hearing. Upon such hearing, the board may change or modify any of the zones or the percentages to be raised therefrom and shall distribute proportionately the percentage to be raised in each zone in accordance with the benefits received therefrom. Such hearing may be continued from time to time by the board by an order entered on its minutes. At the conclusion of the hearing the board shall make a final determination as to the extent and boundaries of the zones and the percentages to be raised therefrom.

The location and extent of the zones within the district and the percentages to be raised therefrom shall be finally established and determined by the board and shall prevail for all purposes until any bonds to be issued by the district shall have been fully paid and discharged. Findings and determination of the board as to the extent and boundaries of the zones and the percentages to be raised therefrom shall be final and conclusive subject to ratification by the electors as herein provided.

SEC. 12.3. Notwithstanding any other provision in this act the governing body of any member unit at any time after the location and extent of zones in said district and the percentages to be raised therefrom in each of such zones for the purpose of assessment have been finally fixed and determined by the board, but before the calling of any bond election, may with the consent of the board, enter into a contract with the district to pay to the district for the benefit of the bond fund thereof, if a bond issue be authorized and bonds be issued, an amount which shall be equal to the total amount assessed against all zones situated entirely within the member unit. Thereupon said charges against said zone or zones shall be canceled to the extent of said amount so agreed to be paid and thereafter the electors residing within such zone or zones shall not be entitled to vote at such election. Such contract shall contain such other or additional provisions as the board shall deem necessary or advisable in order to protect the interests of the district and to substitute the contract in lieu and instead of the assessments by said member unit or units.

SEC. 13. The rights of way, ditches, flumes, pipe lines and other conduits, drains, water, water rights, reservoirs, dams, franchises, works and all other property used for the purposes of the district and belonging to it shall not be taxed nor assessed for state, county, municipal or any district purposes.

SEC. 14. The establishment of the district or anything of this act contained shall not affect, restrict nor supersede the existence, property, right or power of any municipality, public district or public agency now or hereafter established in or partially within the limits of the district for the purpose or purposes in whole or part of flood control or for the purpose or purposes in whole or part of reclamation, conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use or development of water. The Legislature because of conditions special to the county hereby expressly declares its interest to permit within the limits of the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District the existence of more than one district and or municipality having similar powers over similar territory in regard to flood control, reclamation, water conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use and development.

SEC. 15. The formation of the district or the enactment of this act shall not impair the vested right of any person, association, corporation, municipality or public district in or to water or the use thereof.

SEC. 16. The district in order to determine the legality of its existence, in addition to any remedy it may have for that purpose, may institute a proceeding therefor in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Solano, by filing a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal district formed under this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four (4) successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said district. Within 30 days after the last publication of said summons shall have been completed, any property owner or resident or registered voter in said district, or any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district and shall be filed in such proceeding. If an answer be filed, the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Such proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California. Appeals may be taken from said judgment in the same manner as in other civil cases. The procedure provided by this section shall be cumulative and not exclusive.

SEC. 16.5. The district may be dissolved in the manner provided for the dissolution of districts by Chapter 2 of Division 4 of the District Organization Act, and the district shall be considered a district within the meaning of all the provisions of such chapter.

SEC. 17. The Legislature hereby finds that water problems in the county require county-wide water conservation, development of water resources and flood control; that these problems are not general or state wide; that the county for many years has had made investigations and engineering surveys of the county's water resources by private, public and United States engineers; that county water districts, municipalities, and water conservation districts now exist within portions of the county, have acquired property and works, developed a limited water supply, and have incurred indebtedness, but have been and are unable alone to economically develop an adequate water supply; that to adequately and feasibly conserve the water supply and control the floods of said county, it is necessary to have a political entity co extensive with the geographical limits of the entire county; that there is a great scarcity of water within the county for municipal irrigation, military and other uses and there is an urgent need that an adequate supply of water be obtained. Investigation has shown conditions in said county to be peculiar to it and it is hereby declared that general law cannot be applicable to said county and that the enactment of this special law is necessary for the conservation, development, control and use of said water for the public good and for the protection of life and property therein.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Mayo:

Senate Resolution No. 172

Relative to the creation of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Establishing a Port Development Agency for San Francisco Bay

WHEREAS, It is generally recognized that San Francisco Bay is one of the world's finest and locked harbors, possessing within its area docking and wharfing facilities where countless numbers of ships and cargoes may be berthed and stored; and

WHEREAS, It has been demonstrated conclusively during the recent World War that San Francisco Bay is the natural port for commerce to and from the Orient, Australia, New Zealand, the Pacific Islands, Central and South America, and Alaska; and

WHEREAS, The industrial, commercial and farming structure of a great portion of the State of California can be greatly enhanced and abetted by the maximum use of the facilities of San Francisco Bay; and

WHEREAS, There presently exist within the confines of San Francisco Bay, several ports, each acting as an autonomous unit, separate and distinct from one another; and

WHEREAS, The harbor regions of New York, New Orleans, Houston, and other major ports have in the past been confronted with similar problems of several ports within one anchorage, and have established programs of cooperative action on a statutory and voluntary basis through the creation of a port authority or similar coordinating agency, in order to gain their equitable share of the Nation's water-borne commerce and to advance their position in world trade; and

WHEREAS, The State Legislature has approved, and the Governor has signed Senate Bill No. 610, establishing an interim San Francisco Bay Ports Commission, for the purpose of studying and recommending a plan for bay ports cooperation, it is essential that a Senate interim committee be established to work with the public commission to be appointed by the Governor; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, as follows:

1. The Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Establishing a Port Development Agency for San Francisco Bay is hereby created and authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the advisability of establishing a port development agency for San Francisco Bay, and the method of operation, including but not limited to revenue producing services and facilities and the effect of such operation by port development agencies throughout the United States and other world trade areas, and including but not limited to the operation, effect, administration, enforcement and needed revision of any and all laws in any way bearing upon or relating to the subject of this resolution, and to report thereon to the Senate, including in the reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

2. The committee shall consist of seven Members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Rules thereof. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the committee shall be filled by the appointing power.

3. The committee is authorized to act during this session of the Legislature, including any recess, and after final adjournment until the commencement of the 1953 Regular Session, with authority to file its final report not later than the fifteenth legislative day of that session.

5. The committee has the following additional powers and duties:

(a) To select a chairman and a vice chairman from its membership.

(b) To contract with such other agencies, public or private, as it deems necessary for the rendition and affording of such services, facilities, studies and reports to the committee as will best assist it to carry out the purposes for which it is created.

(e) To do any and all other things necessary or convenient to enable it fully and adequately to exercise its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objects and purposes of this resolution.

(f) The committee or any subcommittee is authorized to leave the State and to meet and act at any place within or without the United States in connection with the investigation committed to it.

6. The sum of ----- dollars ($-----), or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Senate for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said contingent fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE (RESUMED) THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS

Assembly Bill No. 2886—An act to add Article 5c (Veterans Bond Act of 1951) to Chapter 6 of Division 4 of the Military and Veterans Code, authorizing the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, through the issuance and sale of state bonds, to create a fund to provide farm and home aid for veterans in accordance with the provisions of the Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1943 and acts amendatory and supplemental thereto; defining the powers and duties of said committee and of the Department of Veterans Affairs and other state officers in respect to the administration of the provisions hereof; providing ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such principal matures; and providing that this act shall take effect upon the adoption by the people of the State of California of an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California approving, adopting, legalizing, ratifying, validating and making fully and completely effective said Veterans Bond Act of 1951.

Bill read third time, and presented by Senator Sutton.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 2886:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California*

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 2886, "An act to add Article 5c (Veterans Bond Act of 1951) to Chapter 6 of Division 4 of the Military and Veterans Code, authorizing the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, through the issuance and sale of state bonds, to create a fund to provide farm and home aid for veterans in accordance with the provisions of the Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1943 and acts amendatory and supplemental thereto; defining the powers and duties of said committee and of the Department of Veterans Affairs and other state officers in respect to the administration of the provisions hereof; providing ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such principal matures; and providing that this act shall take effect upon the adoption by the people of the State of California of an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California approving, adopting, legalizing, ratifying, validating and making fully and completely effective said Veterans Bond Act of 1951," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This act, together with a proposed constitutional amendment, will provide for a new bond issue to further finance the State's farm and home purchase program for veterans. Its passage and approval are necessary before the Legislature can complete action on the accompanying constitutional amendment, as the chapter number of this bill is to be incorporated in the constitutional amendment. For this reason action on this measure should not await action on the budget. In order to facilitate the Legislature's action on the constitutional amendment it is important that this bill be approved and chaptered as soon as possible.

This bill does not call for any appropriation during the current fiscal year, but provides an appropriation for the expense connected with the issuance of the proposed bonds. The act takes effect upon the adoption of the constitutional amendment referred to.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 2886 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

COPY

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, June 8, 1951

Hon. Sam L. Collins
Assembly Chamber

Presentation of Bills to the Governor After Final
Adjournment—No. 9356

DEAR MR. COLLINS:

Question

You have asked that we re-examine the conclusions reached in a prior opinion of this office respecting the presentation of bills to the Governor for his signature, in the light of recent changes in the Constitution and statutes of this State. The conclusion reached in that opinion was that no precedent could be found in California for the presentation of bills to the Governor following final adjournment of the Legislature.

Opinion

It is our conclusion that the prior opinion accurately sets forth the state of the legislative precedents in California, and that presentation of bills to the Governor prior to final adjournment is the safest procedure. In the light of the 120-day limitation on the length of general legislative sessions adopted on November 8, 1949 (Art. IV, Sec. 2), however, the Legislature may be unable to present every bill which it has passed in the closing moments of the session to the Governor prior to adjournment. If this happens and if every act requiring action by the houses of the Legislature has been performed prior to final adjournment, we think it very probable that the California courts will follow the precedents established in other states which have had constitutionally-limited sessions and will sustain the validity of such acts if they are approved by the Governor within the 30-day period following adjournment which is prescribed in the Constitution. The validity of this conclusion can only be established by a decision of the California Supreme Court, however, and we recommend that (to the extent possible) all bills be presented to the Governor prior to final adjournment.

Analysis

Our previous opinion on this question¹ pointed out that there was no limitation on the length of any session of the Legislature and that, should the time fixed for adjournment sine die provide insufficient time to allow the legislative officers charged with the duty of enrolling, engrossing, and presenting bills to the Governor, to properly perform those vital functions, the Legislature could fix a later time for adjournment sine die. The opinion then pointed out that it is possible to show that by long standing usage and custom, past Legislatures had uniformly presented all bills to the Governor prior to adjournment.

Since that opinion was written Section 2 of Article IV of the California Constitution has been amended to provide that no general session shall exceed 120 calendar days, exclusive of the constitutional recess, and no budget session shall exceed 30 calendar days.

This amendment, in effect, puts regular law making in this State on a biennial basis and compresses the process of considering and acting upon all legislative proposals into a period of 120 days in odd numbered years. Conceding the desirability of so spacing the consideration of proposed legislation as to avoid a rush in the closing days of the session, it appears from statements of qualified authorities on legislative procedure that such a rush occurs in most state legislatures and that effective means to prevent it have not yet been found.²

It is, therefore, not unlikely that a considerable number of bills will be finally passed by the Legislature shortly before the session expires pursuant to Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution, and the Legislature will, for the first time, be unable to extend the time for adjournment sine die.

In the face of this new situation, brought about by the adoption of a constitutional amendment since our prior opinion was rendered, the legislative precedent of presenting bills to the Governor before final adjournment loses much of its force. Where a legislative body has full control over the length of its sessions it properly could decide to remain in session, after having concluded its law-making activities, to supervise the ministerial and clerical task of certification, verification and delivery of bills to the Governor. We doubt that this would impel a conclusion that such legislative body is compelled to remain in session for the sole purpose of supervising the completion of those ministerial and clerical tasks.

In view of these factors we believe it probable that a California court, being presented with this question for the first time,³ would be inclined to follow the great weight of authority in other jurisdictions, and particularly those jurisdictions in which the Constitution limits the duration of a session. If we are correct in this belief the California courts would hold, with the courts of other jurisdictions, that a bill which has been duly passed by both houses of the Legislature during a session, may be presented to the Governor after final adjournment of that session.

In Dow v. Beidleman, 5 S.W. 297, the Supreme Court of Arkansas ⁴

² See, for example, "The Legislature of California," C. C. Young, p. 243.

³ "Fowler v. Peirce," 2 Cal. 165, did not involve this question. The question presented was whether a bill signed by the Governor after final adjournment was valid. The Constitution at that time provided that if the Governor shall not return a bill within 10 days it shall become a law "unless the Legislature, by adjournment prevents such return." There was no provision, as there is in our present Constitution, authorizing the Governor to sign a bill within 30 days after final adjournment. The case cited, assuming part of it has survived the overruling language in "Sherman v. Story," 30 Cal. 253, 279, 280, goes no further than to hold that the Constitution of 1849 did not authorize the Governor to approve bills after final adjournment. In 1879, however, that power was given to the Governor, and he has exercised it ever since.

in holding that a bill could be presented to the Governor after final adjournment said:

"The question, then, is resolved into this: Whether a bill, that has passed both houses, may be submitted to the governor, for his approval, after the adjournment of the legislature, or whether it must be presented to him while the legislative body is still in session. The constitution ordains that every such bill shall be presented to the governor. If he approves it, he shall sign it; but, if he shall not approve it, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which house shall proceed to reconsider it. 'If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall become a law, unless he shall file the same, with his objections, in the office of the secretary of state, and give notice thereof by public proclamation within twenty days after such adjournment.' Const. art. 6, § 15. Nothing in this language implies that all bills must be transmitted to the governor before the adjournment of the assembly. He is prevented by the adjournment from returning the bill, whether the bill is in his hands before it adjourns, or reaches his hands afterwards. The term of members does not expire when it adjourns, nor do all the functions and powers of its officers then cease. It may often happen, in the case of bills passed in the closing hours of a session, that there is not sufficient time to enroll them properly, and present them to the executive, before an adjournment takes place. The effect is not that, under the circumstances, the bill fails to become a law."

To the same effect is Monroe v. Green 76 S.W. 199, in which the right to present a bill after final adjournment was affirmed, provided the presentation occurred within the 20-day period during which the governor could constitutionally veto it. See also Russell v. Cone 272 S.W. 678 in which the same court upheld the validity of a statute providing for a committee of the Legislature charged with the duty of enrolling bills and presenting them to the governor after final adjournment,⁵ and Barker v. State, 174 S.W. 2d 545.

In Amos v. Gunn 94 So. 615, three justices of the Florida Supreme Court⁶ indicated that bills must be presented to the governor prior to final adjournment. However, in the later case of State ex rel. Thompson v. Davis, 169 So. 199, the same court stated that bills duly passed in the closing hours of a session could constitutionally be presented to the governor after final adjournment.

In Prerodin v. Derby and Ansonia Developing Co., 151 Atl. 518, the Supreme Court of Connecticut⁷ rejected the contention that bills must be presented to the governor before final adjournment, but in view of the fact that the governor in that state has only three days after final adjournment within which he may sign bills, the court declared all bills enacted must be presented to the governor "forthwith following adjournment", without taking time for engrossment or enrollment.

⁵ For similar California provisions see Gov. C. Sec. 9220; Rule No. 13, Standing Rules of the Senate.

⁶ Regular sessions of the Florida Legislature are limited to 60 days.

⁷ Connecticut's regular session is limited to 150 days.

The case does not require presentation to be made before final adjournment, and in view of the fact that in California the Governor has 30 days in which to act rather than the three days allowed in Connecticut, and in view of the fact that the enrolling and engrossing process lightens the Governor's task by securing for him a bill, in easily readable form, it would appear that the requirement of presentation forthwith would be relaxed in this State if our courts agreed with the Connecticut court that presentation could be made after final adjournment.

The Maryland⁸ Court of Appeals has held that bills passed by the legislature during a session may be presented to the governor after final adjournment. (Lankford v. County Commissioners 20 Atl. 1017; Johnson v. Leurs, 99 Atl. 710; Roby v. Broersma, 26 Atl. 2d 820, 29 Atl. 2d 827).

Illinois and Vermont, whose legislative sessions are not limited, are in accord with the above cases. (People v. Rose (Ill.) 47 NE 657; People v. Hughes (Ill.) 25 NE 2d 75; Hartness v. Black (Vt.) 114 Atl. 44).

The only contrary case which we have found is In re Opinion of the Justices 81 Atl. 170, in which the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, in an advisory opinion, the justices stated that "the constitutional question whether the legislature could authorize the presentation of bills to the governor after its adjournment does not arise" but indicated that under existing statutory provisions relating to enrolling, engrossing and related matters, it was "implied that the presentation authorized is to be made before adjournment."

The case is worthy of note since it appears that the statutes involved were similar to Sections 9500 to 9516 of the Government Code, and the case points up a possibility that those sections could be restrictively construed by the California courts. However, Section 9220 of the Government Code places on the Speaker of the Assembly the duty, after final adjournment, of delivering bills to the Governor, and Section 9126 makes the Senate Committee on Rules (which has charge of engrossing and enrolling bills under Senate Standing Rule No. 13) an agency of continuing existence. Since these statutes were enacted at a later date than Sections 9500 to 9516 and since they indicate a legislative intent to permit action after adjournment, it would appear unlikely that the California court would make the restrictive implication that the New Hampshire court did.

As we have already mentioned, the question as to whether a bill which has been duly passed by both houses of the Legislature during a session, but is presented to the Governor after adjournment sine die and signed by him would be invalid is a question of first impression in this State. Because of this fact, and because of the fact that the language of the constitutions of the various states is not the same, we are unable to guarantee that the California courts would follow the weight of authority in other jurisdictions which is set forth above. We believe, however, the California courts would respect the problems of the Legislature growing out of the closing rush of legislative business and would probably follow the line of authority indicated above and would sustain the validity of any bill presented to the Governor after final adjournment which he signs within the 30-day period.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

By Senator Regan :

Senate Resolution No. 177

Relative to studying the continuous revision of the statute law by the Senate Interim Committee on Judiciary

WHEREAS, By the enactment of the Financial Code and of the Public Utilities Code, as Chapters 364 and 764, respectively, of the Statutes of 1951, the Legislature has enacted the last two codes called for by the California Code Commission's long-recommended plan of organizing the statutes of the State into 24 codes ; and

WHEREAS, It appears from the 1950 Report of the California Code Commission, heretofore filed with each of the Members of the Legislature, that the commission anticipates bringing its work of codifying the laws of the State to substantial completion by the time the 1953 General Session of the Legislature convenes ; and

WHEREAS, The commission has recommended that the problem of "keeping the codes in shape" and the problem of carrying forward a program for continuous revision of the statute law, both in matters of form and substance, be made the subject of careful study during the interim between the 1951 and 1953 General Sessions of the Legislature ; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Senate Interim Committee on Judiciary is authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the subject matter of the recitals of this resolution, and particularly to the desirability of directing the California Code Commission or some other law revision agency to undertake a continuing program of revising the statute law, including but not limited to a study of the experience of other states (such as the State of New York which has carried on such work over a period of years) and of the desirability of providing representation by Members of the Legislature on any such agency, and to report thereon to the Senate, including in the reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Ward asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding "Constitutionality of Assembly Bill No. 3352, as amended in Senate May 29, 1951," printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, June 8, 1951

Hon. Clarence C. Ward
Senate Chamber

Constitutionality of Assembly Bill No. 3352 as amended in Senate May 29, 1951—No. 9428

DEAR SENATOR WARD:

Question

You ask whether Section 9908 of the Government Code as proposed to be amended by Assembly Bill No. 3352 would be held constitutional.

Opinion

We think that Section 9908 as proposed to be amended would be held to be constitutional.

Analysis

Briefly stated, the amendments proposed to Section 9908 of the Government Code would prohibit a person from attempting to influence the passage or defeat of legislation, for pay or for any consideration, after having been denied a certificate of registration or after having had such certificate suspended or revoked.

Possible constitutional questions raised by Section 9908 are:

1. The right of freedom of speech and freedom of the press guaranteed by the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution and Section 9 of Article I of the California Constitution.

2. The right to petition the government for a redress of grievances guaranteed by the First Amendment to the Federal Constitution and Section 10 of Article I of the California Constitution.

The State, in the exercise of its police power, has undoubted power to pass legislation to protect the public welfare. Matter of Yun Quong, 159 Cal. 508. It would seem clear that the protection of the legislative processes is of such high importance that legislation protecting the legislative processes must be for the protection of the public welfare.

The rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press are not absolute ones; the freedom secured thereby is not an unlimited license to speak and publish whatever one may choose. Duffy v. Cooke, 86 A. 1076; Ex Parte Hawthorne, 156 So. 619; Tipton v. Sands, 60 Pac. 2d 662. The Legislature, under the public power, may regulate, suppress, or prohibit any business or calling if the tendency of what is ordinarily or often done in pursuing it is inimical to the public welfare. Murphy v. California, 225 U. S. 623.

Nor do these constitutional rights prevent the infliction of punishment for oral or written publications which are deemed contrary to the public welfare, or injurious to society, or which tend to subvert or imperil the government or to impede or hinder it in the performance of the governmental duties; and such rights cannot be used to prevent punishment for violation of laws which are designed not to restrict freedom of speech or freedom of the press, but to protect society from acts which are injurious to the people. United States v. Toledo Newspaper Co., 220 Fed. 458; Tyomies Publishing Co. v. United States, 211 Fed. 385.

Similarly, the right to petition the government for a redress of grievance is not completely unlimited. It is no more sacred than the rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press, and, like them, is subject to a reasonable regulation to protect and preserve the general welfare. In Re Stolen, 216 N.W. 127.

The penalty provisions of the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act (2 U.S.C.A., Secs. 261 to 270) have been upheld as not abridging the constitutionally guaranteed privileges of freedom of speech, press, and petition. United States v. Slaughter, 89 Fed. Supp. 205. The proposed amendments to Section 9908, however, go a step further than the federal act.

If Section 9908 is so amended its effect on the statute regulating legislative representation will be to establish a system for issuing certificates to persons registering under the statute, if they are found to be of good moral character as defined by the statute, and to prohibit any person from acting as a legislative representative after such certificate has been denied, or after having been issued, is revoked or suspended for cause specified in the statute.

We cannot say as a matter of law that such regulation would be unreasonable. Further, there is always a strong presumption in favor of constitutionality of any statute and we believe a court would uphold its constitutionality.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By LOUIS A. BOLI III, Deputy

Two copies to Honorable John L. E. Collier, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Memorandum of Understanding of First Committee on Conference—Assembly Bill No. 500, printed in the Journal:

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING OF FIRST COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE—ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 500

June 12, 1951

The first series of amendments recommended by the Committee on Conference relate to the budget for the Department of Mental Hygiene.

Hospital Attendants

The Committee on Conference recommends approval of 500 positions of hospital attendants. These positions will increase the attendant ratio from 85 to 86 percent of the department's goal instead of 87 percent as requested in the budget.

The Committee on Conference does not consider that the recommended increase in the attendant ratio from 85 to 86 constitutes adoption of a policy that the ratio shall be increased in the future in any particular amount or to any particular goal.

Intramural Social Worker

Approval is recommended for 17 intramural social workers requested. This recommendation allows the work load increase plus 14 positions for new service.

Leading Stationary Engineer

The Committee on Conference recommends approval of the positions of leading stationary engineer which consists of seven new positions and four reclassifications of stationary engineer.

Building Trades Foreman

The Committee on Conference recommended approval of six new positions and five reclassifications of building trades foreman.

It is understood by the Committee on Conference that the new positions and reclassifications of leading stationary engineer and building trades foreman recommended above will make it unnecessary for the Personnel Board to consider further the possible reclassification of any positions which are scheduled to be subordinate in duty to said building trades foreman or leading stationary engineer positions in order to give supervisory or foreman status to any such positions. If the Personnel Board does reclassify any of such subordinate positions to give them supervisory or foreman status, the members of the Committee on Conference hereby announce their intention to propose at the next session of the Legislature to abolish the positions of building trades foreman and leading stationary engineer which are recommended above.

Milkers

The Committee on Conference recommends the adoption of amendments which would alter the Senate's previous action to reduce the number of milkers budgeted for the dairies at the mental hospitals. It would allow to remain in the budget one-quarter of the amount previously recommended for reduction in order that the Department of Mental Hygiene may make an orderly reduction in personnel and reassignment of duties among remaining positions. The remaining three-quarters of the reduction made by the Senate in the item of milkers is sustained by the recommendations of the Committee on Conference. However, it was agreed that if after further study by the Department of Finance and the Department of Mental Hygiene it is believed by those parties that some further adjustment in the budgetary action proposed herein is necessary that a request may be made to the Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture and Livestock Problems for approval of such proposed change. If the Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture and Livestock Problems approves, a transfer of funds for that purpose may be made from any moneys available.

The second series of amendments recommended by the Committee on Conference relate to civil defense expenditures.

The Committee on Conference recommended that of the $12,000,000 requested for appropriation for civil defense, the following amounts be made available without further legislative action :

- 1. Control center equipment ----- $1,000,000

This $1,000,000 is to include the items of $442,190 for equipment to communicate from the State to the region and the operating areas. It would also include radio facilities costing $440,000 from the operating areas to 200 cities in target regions. The difference, or approximately $118,000, would be for additional communication facilities needed but is not to include rentals for wire service but is to be limited to outright purchase of equipment or construction. It is the understanding that the Department of Finance will not grant approval for payment of rental for any part of the million dollar appropriation for communications nor from the contingent fund provided in Item 31 of the Budget Bill, unless approved by the Senate Special Committee on Civil Defense, if re-established, or the Joint Legislative Budget Committee.

- 2. Radiological monitoring teams ----- 500,000

The total amount of $500,000 is to be made available for this purpose, $200,000 of which is to be from Chapter 43, Statutes of 1950, and $300,000 by amendment to Item 362.1.

3. Medical supplies ----- 3,367,000

The amount of $3,367,000 is approved for medical supplies in accordance with the request of the Governor.

4. The remainder of the $12,000,000 for civil defense amounting to $7,533,000 is to remain as an appropriation which will be available for expenditure only if implemented by specific enactment of the Legislature as provided in Assembly Bill No. 500 as amended in the Senate June 8, 1951, page 96, lines 18 to 24, inclusive.

The third item considered by the Committee on Conference related to Item 362.2 of the Budget Bill which concerns the disposition of General Fund revenues for 1950-51 which are in excess of $637,000,000.

Item 362.2 of the budget, as proposed for amendment by the Committee on Conference, provides that General Fund revenues for 1950-51 in excess of $637,000,000 but not to exceed $656,000,000 shall accrue to the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund. The Governor's Budget estimated General Fund revenues at $620,000,000. A fiscal year adjustment item of approximately $5,000,000 plus $12,000,000 for civil defense would require General Fund revenues of $637,000,000 if the General Fund unbudgeted surplus for June 30, 1952, is not to be reduced below the $20,000,000 shown in the Governor's Budget, or other budgetary adjustments made.

The cost augmentation proposed in the Capital Outlay Report filed by the Senate Finance Committee and printed in the Senate Journal dated June 7, 1951, would require $15,000,000 in excess revenues, and deferred maintenance items requested by the Director of Finance requires an additional $4,000,000. The Committee on Conference recognized that this additional $19,000,000 was essential to the continuation of the recommended capital outlay program as contained in the above referred to capital outlay report and, for that reason, recommends approval of the allocation of excess revenues between $637,000,000 and $656,000,000 for that purpose. While it is also recognized that additional amounts will probably be necessary to bring to completion additional projects deferred in the capital outlay report, any appropriation required for this purpose for 1952-53 or subsequently can be made from such funds as are available for appropriation by the Legislature. The Committee on Conference agreed that any excess revenues above $656,000,000 in 1950-51 should not be restricted to capital outlay purposes, but should accrue to the General Fund.

The Committee on Conference added four additional preliminary planning items consisting of the following:

1. San Quentin (commissary, laundry and maintenance) ..	$26,200
2. Psychiatric Hospital at Los Angeles	75,000
3. Institution for Mental Defectives, Costa Mesa	150,000
4. Langley Porter Clinic	30,032

It is the intent of the Committee on Conference that the recommended approval of planning money for the items listed above does not constitute a statement of intent that priority as to appropriations for final plans and construction shall be given to these items as against other projects subject to consideration and appropriation by the Legislature.

"SECTION 1. Section 331.5 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

331.5. (a) Every building or place maintained or operated by any person, in which draw poker is played at more than five tables, or in which more than 40 persons engage in playing draw poker at any one time, is a nuisance which shall be enjoined, abated, and prevented as hereinafter provided, whether the same be a public or private nuisance.

(b) The possession by a person of a license issued by any city, county, or city and county to operate or conduct draw poker games in any building or place at more than five tables or by more than 40 persons, in any proceeding under this section, shall be deemed to be prima facie evidence of the violation of this section.

(c) Whenever there is reason to believe that such nuisance is kept, maintained or exists in any county or city and county, the district attorney of said county or city and county, in the name of the people of the State of California, shall, or any citizen of the State resident within said county or city and county in his own name may, maintain an action to abate and prevent such nuisance and to perpetually enjoin the person or persons conducting or maintaining the same, and the owner, lessee or agent of the building, or place, in or upon which such nuisance exists, from directly or indirectly maintaining or permitting such nuisance.

(d) The complaint in such action must be verified unless filed by the district attorney. Whenever the existence of such nuisance is shown in such action to the satisfaction of the court or judge thereof, either by verified complaint or affidavit, and the court or judge is satisfied that the owner of the property has received written notice of existence of such nuisance, signed by the complainant or the said district attorney at least two weeks prior to the filing of the complaint, the court or judge shall issue a preliminary injunction to abate and prevent the continuance or recurrence of such nuisance. On granting such writ the court or judge must receive, except when it is granted on application of the people of the State, written undertaking on the part of the applicant, with sufficient securities, to the effect that he will pay to the party enjoined such damages, not exceeding an amount to be specified, as such party may sustain by reason of the injunction, if the court finally decides that the applicant was not entitled thereto.

(e) The action when brought shall have precedence over all other actions, excepting criminal proceedings, election contests and hearings on injunctions. If the complaint is filed by a citizen, it shall not be dismissed by the plaintiff or for want of prosecution except upon a sworn statement made by the complainant and his attorney, setting forth the reasons why the action should be dismissed, and the dismissal ordered by the court. In case of failure to prosecute any such action with reasonable diligence, or at the request of the plaintiff, the court, in its discretion, may substitute any such citizen consenting thereto for such plaintiff. If the action is brought by a citizen and the court finds there was no reasonable ground or cause for said action, the costs shall be taxed against such citizen.

(f) If the existence of the nuisance be established in an action as provided herein, an order of abatement shall be entered as part of the judgment in the case, and plaintiff shall be entitled to costs.

(g) Any violation or disobedience of any injunction or order expressly provided for by this section shall be punished as a contempt of court by fine of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(h) "Person" includes any individual, firm, copartnership, joint adventure, association, corporation, estate, trust, business trust, receiver, syndicate or any other group or combination acting as a unit, and the plural as well as the singular number."

32653. In any suit, action, or proceeding by or against or in any manner relating to an authority, the authority shall be conclusively deemed to have become established and authorized to transact business and exercise its powers upon proof of the adoption of [a] the resolution by the legislative body declaring the need for the authority to function.

The bonds of each issue shall constitute special obligations, and evidence a special indebtedness, of the authority, which shall be a charge upon, and payable, both as principal and interest, and as to any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof, solely from, such revenues and funds as are specified therein and in the proceedings for their issuance, and shall not constitute obligations, nor evidence any indebtedness, of the city, or of the State.

(d) From any contributions or other financial assistance from the city, the State or Federal Governments, or from any other source.

(e) From parking meter revenue of the city which may be appropriated by the governing body of the city.

(f) From any combination of these sources.

SEC. 20. Section 33105 of said code is amended to read:

33105. Bonds may be additionally secured by [a pledge of] the pledging of, placing a charge upon, or otherwise making available any parking meter revenue. Until all bonds so secured have been paid, the legislative body of a city may [pledge or] allocate, pledge, place a charge upon, or otherwise make available its parking meter revenue or special taxes for periods of years for the financing or operation of any project authorized by this part and the payment of principal and interest on all or any type of bond issued and outstanding pursuant to this part.

SEC. 21. Section 33105.5 is added to said code, to read:

Opinion of the Attorney General regarding Senate Bill No. 1228, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 15, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield
Senate Chamber

Senate Bill No. 1228—No. 8206

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: You have asked us to analyze the opinion of the Attorney General relating to Senate Bill No. 1228.

The opinion to which you refer reaches the following conclusions:

(1) That the bill is valid, with the possible exception of the last sentence;¹ that the last sentence is severable and its possible invalidity would not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of the bill.

(2) That, if enacted, the bill could furnish the basis for injunctive relief against secondary strikes, secondary boycotts and picketing in support thereof.

(3) That while it is possible that injunctions may be sought to restrain picketing in circumstances where such picketing may be constitutionally protected (presumably peaceful picketing for a lawful object not violating the public policy), if injunctions are issued in such cases the injunction, and not the statute, would fall.

(4) That the bill is not invalid on the ground that it might interfere with the National Labor Management Relations Act, 1947.

The opinion cites the same principal cases which were cited in our previous opinions to you on this same bill. The conclusions expressed in those previous opinions are in accord with the conclusions expressed by the Attorney General, except with respect to the last sentence of the bill.

With respect to that last sentence, the Attorney General expresses the view that it might be given so broad an interpretation by the courts that it would cover, in effect, primary strikes and other forms of primary labor activity.

While that observation is accurate if the last sentence is read in isolation from the remainder of the bill, we believe much of this uncertainty disappears when the sentence is read in the light of the preceding paragraph of the bill, and in the light of the legislative history of the provision. The legislative finding in the preceding paragraph clearly recognizes the right of labor to exert primary pressure directly on the employer from better wages, hours, working conditions or recognition of bargaining agents is sought and expresses concern over the results of secondary labor activities only.

Furthermore, the last sentence of the bill originally appeared in the bill as the first sentence of proposed Section 1134. The remainder of that section provided that any person who intentionally induced one employer to breach a contract with another employer was liable in damages for such conduct. When the two sentences were read together there was little, if any, room for doubt that the intention of the section was to alter the judicially declared policy that while an action for damages lies for intentional inducement of breach of promise in most cases, no such action lies where such inducement is made by a labor organization because of the public policy in favor of labor activities to improve working conditions (See Imperial Ice Co. v. Rossier, 18 Cal. 2d 33, 35).

When the bill was subsequently amended to include only the public policy declaration, the first sentence (i.e., the policy statement) of Section 1134 was moved into the section of the bill containing the general policy statement, where it became the last sentence, and all provisions of the bill except the policy statement were deleted.

In view of this legislative history we do not believe the courts would afford a greater scope to the language of the last sentence of the bill than the scope which would have been given to that language in deleted Section 1134. So confined, the sentence would refer only to intentional attempts by labor unions to induce one employer to breach a contract with another employer.

Senate Bill No. 1228—No. 7668

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD:

Question

You have asked for our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 1228, as amended in Senate April 27, 1951.

Opinion

In our opinion the bill is constitutional.

Analysis

As amended the bill declares that the exertion of secondary pressures against or through employers other than the employer with whom a primary dispute concerning wages, hours and working conditions exists, has resulted in and will continue to result in specified evils and substantial injury to the economy of the State and the welfare of its people. To deal with this evil, the bill declares (1) that the secondary boycott and the secondary strike are beyond the permissible limits of industrial conflict and contrary to the public policy of this State and (2) that under the public policy of this State the interests of labor in improving working conditions do not justify acts specifically intended to cause a breach, suspension of performance, or termination, of contractual relations between employers.

The bill might be attacked upon the ground that it is too vague, in that it uses the terms "secondary boycotts" and "secondary strikes" without definition.

We do not believe such an attack upon the bill would be upheld.

In the first place the bill provides no penalties, civil or criminal. It is neither a penal statute, nor a "coercive measure" (see In re Blaney, 30 Cal. 643, 654) but a statement of the permissible limits of industrial conflict under the public policy of the State. It is therefore not subject to the same requirements as to certainty which would be applicable in the case of a penal or "coercive" statute.

In the second place, insofar as it deals with secondary boycotts and secondary strikes the bill constitutes, as can readily be recognized by the courts, a legislative reversal of the judicially declared policy that secondary boycotts and secondary strikes are within the permissible area of industrial conflict. That judicial policy was laid down in (among other cases) Pierce v. Stablenen's Union, 156 Cal. 71. In that case the court said (p. 76):

"This last proposition necessarily involves the bringing into a labor dispute between A and B, C, who has no difference with either. It contemplates that C, upon request of B, and under the moral intimidation lest B boycott him, may thus be constrained to withdraw his patronage from A, with whom he has no controversy. This is the 'secondary boycott' the legality of which is vigorously denied by the English courts, the federal courts, and by the courts of many of the states of this nation."

We believe the factors mentioned above, and the quoted language of the California Supreme Court amply demonstrate that the phrase "secondary boycott" has a clearly defined and recognized meaning which makes statutory definition thereof unnecessary, particularly in a statute which does no more than declare the public policy of the State. On the same basis we believe the term "secondary strike" needs no further definition.

We are aware of the dictum in the Blaney case (above) to the effect that "only by a carefully drawn statute which separately treats the various forms of concerted activities loosely termed 'secondary boycotts' can the Legislature hope to accomplish the object of regulating those forms which may be ultimately held to be within its constitutional power." However, this dictum must be read in context and, as so read, refers to activities loosely termed "secondary boycotts" by the labor code section which the court had before it and which gave an artificial statutory meaning to that term.

As indicated by the court in Pierce v. Stablenen's Union (above) not only does the term "secondary boycott" have a definite and clear meaning in the absence of an artificial definition of the term, but secondary boycotts have been held unlawful by both state and federal courts without running afoul of any provision of the Constitution.

We believe there is little room for doubt that the Legislature may declare the State's public policy and, in so doing, change the policy as declared by the courts. Primarily it is for the lawmakers to determine the public policy of the State (Building Service Employers International Union v. Gazzam, 339 U. S. 532, 537, 538). Furthermore, as stated by

Justice Shenk in his dissenting opinion in the Blaney case (above) the California Supreme Court "in approving 'secondary boycott' or other coercive measures as lawful union activities has repeatedly recognized the legislative power to change the policy of the State." (30 Cal. 2d at p. 666.)

Any objections to the bill which might be based upon possible impairment of free speech or upon the ground of involuntary servitude have already been discussed in a previous opinion to you (see Senate Journal March 30, 1951, pp. 936 and following). We do not believe any objections to the bill in its present form, based on the premise that it impairs free speech or imposes involuntary servitude, would be sustained.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

No. 51/78

May 8, 1951

HONORABLE GEORGE J. HATFIELD, State Senator representing the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District, requests our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 1228, as amended April 23, 1951, which declares secondary strikes and secondary boycotts to be contrary to state public policy.

Our conclusions are summarized as follows:

Considered as a basis for injunctions against peaceful secondary picketing or other forms of secondary labor pressure, the bill does not violate the freedoms of communication protected by the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, although cases may arise where its application to the particular facts may be regarded as an invalid restraint upon peaceful expression. As a basis for injunctions against secondary strikes, the bill is probably not in violation of other liberties protected by the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Amendments. Nor is the bill invalid because of interference with the federal Labor Management Relations Act, 1947 (Taft-Hartley Act). The possibility of jurisdictional conflicts between state courts, acting under the proposed bill, and federal tribunals, acting under the Taft-Hartley Act, does not invalidate the state legislation but limits its application to nonconflicting cases. The last sentence of the bill is subject to so many debatable interpretations, that determination of its constitutionality is withheld; it is, however, severable from the remainder of the bill.

ANALYSIS

As amended in the Senate on April 23, 1951, Senate Bill No. 1228 would repeal Sections 1131 through 1136 of the Labor Code, the so-called "hot cargo law" which was declared unconstitutional in the case of In re Blaney (1947), 30 Cal. 2d 643. The bill would add a new Section 1131 to the Labor Code, to read:

"The public policy of this State is declared as follows:

"Notwithstanding such rights as are or may be conferred by law on employees to engage in a strike against their employer and thus to assert primary economic pressure against him because of a dispute with him as to the right of his employees to bargain collectively or as to their wages, hours or working conditions, nevertheless experience has shown that the exertion of secondary pressures against or through employers other than the one with whom such primary dispute exists by labor unions and labor combinations has resulted in and will continue to result in obstructions to and restraints upon the free flow of commerce within this State, in widespread unemployment, loss of purchasing power, critical shortages in essential goods and materials, and substantial injury to the economy of this State and the welfare of its people. This evil has been recognized by a majority of the people of this State as evidenced by their vote in favor of a bill proscribing secondary boycotts, at the general election held on November 3, 1942.

"The Legislature hereby declares that the secondary strike and the secondary boycott and other forms of concerted action directed against employers other than an employer with whom a primary dispute exists are beyond the permissible limits of industrial conflict and contrary to the public policy of this State. The Legislature further declares the public policy of this State to be that the interests of labor in improving working conditions does not justify acts specifically intended to cause a breach of contractual relations between employers."

We are asked for our views as to the constitutionality of the above quoted provision. The constitutionality of the statute is not an abstract legal question and can only be determined with reference to the actual cases which may arise under it. "What may reasonably be done under a statute is the test of its validity" (Abbott v. McNutt, (1933) 218 Cal.

225, 230). As we see it, Section 1131 would be made the basis for injunction actions seeking to restrain labor unions or combinations of employees from engaging in secondary strikes or from engaging in the various forms of activity which may be called secondary boycotts. The constitutionality of the proposed statute depends upon the constitutional validity of the injunctions which may be issued under it.

Nowhere in the proposed section are the terms "secondary strike" and "secondary boycott" defined. It has been said that no accurate definition of these terms has been given by the courts. It is generally understood, however, that a primary boycott is a boycott which is applied directly and alone to the offending person by withdrawing from him all business relations on the part of the organization that initiates the boycott. A secondary boycott, on the other hand, comes into existence when the members of the organization initiating the boycott, or members of another organization in sympathy, refuse to have any business relations with persons dealing with the offender until he has yielded to the demands made (31 Am. Jur. 957).

We do have the following stated example of a secondary boycott:

"This last proposition necessarily involves the bringing into a labor dispute between A and B, C, who has no difference with either. It contemplates that C, upon the request of B and under the moral intimidation lest B boycott him, may thus be constrained to withdraw his patronage from A, with whom he has no controversy. Thus the secondary boycott * * *."

Lisse v. Local Union, (1935) 2 Cal. 2d 312, 319.

A secondary strike exists when employees in concert refuse to assist or cooperate with the allegedly unfair employers or their products (Teller, "Labor Disputes and Collective Bargaining," Secs. 103, 122). A secondary strike occurs, for example, when employer A is involved in a labor dispute, and the employees of B concertedly leave their work in order to induce or force B to stop handling or processing A's products, with the objective of depriving A of a beneficial business relationship.

In this State, aside from statute, employees may lawfully engage in a peaceful, nonfraudulent secondary boycott (Parkinson Co. v. Building Trades Council, (1908) 154 Cal. 581; Pierce v. Stablemen's Union, (1909) 156 Cal. 70; Lisse v. Local Union, supra). The common law of many other states is to the contrary, holding that such conduct may be enjoined (see authorities collected in United Union Brewing Co. v. Beck, (Wash.) (1939) 93 Pac. 2d 772). This is not to say that a secondary boycott may not be the subject of a statutory prohibition in California. In a concurring opinion in the Parkinson case, supra, Mr. Justice Sloss pointed out (154 Cal. at 610):

"* * * if there be, in such combinations, evils which should be redressed, the remedy is to be sought, as to some extent it has been sought, by legislation. If the conditions require new laws, those laws should be made by the law-making power, not by the courts."

The proposed statute does not itself prohibit conduct. It would only declare that certain conduct is in violation of public policy. Presumably, such conduct, being in violation of public policy, would be enjoined by the courts of equity. A legislative act is conclusive as to the public policy of the State and is final so far as the courts are concerned, unless it violates a constitutional limitation on the legislative power (11 Am. Jur. 814, 816, 892).

So far as Section 1131 might be used as the basis for injunctions against secondary strikes, it is fairly easy to recognize just what conduct might be restrained. A strike is a fairly recognizable phenomenon. In unusual cases there may be some difficulty in ascertaining whether a strike is primary or secondary, but this is a matter which the courts may decide as such cases arise.

The term "secondary boycott," however, is an abstraction. It may be manifested by many types of conduct, all designed to exert economic pressure against business enterprises to induce or compel the severance of economic relationships with other enterprises engaged in labor disputes. Examples of such conduct are: picketing the premises of an employer who is handling "unfair" products; blacklisting a secondary employer; advertising his merchandise as "unfair"; persuading his suppliers not to sell to him, his customers not to buy from him, or his employees not to work for him. In gauging the propriety of an injunction aimed at restraining such activities, the task is to discover whether the particular activities are protected by a higher law than the state statute, that is, by a guarantee found in the State or Federal Constitutions or in the federal law.

As we foresee the proposed law in operation, it will be used in many cases as a basis for court orders restraining secondary picketing by unions, that is, a picket line thrown around the plant of employer B as a means of persuading or compelling him to stop doing business with employer A, who is a party to a labor dispute. Peaceful picketing had once enjoyed fairly complete identification with the constitutional freedoms of communication (Thornhill v. Alabama, (1940) 310 U. S. 88; Carlson v. California, (1940) 310 U. S. 106; American Federation of Labor v. Swing, (1941) 312 U. S. 21; McKay v. Retail etc. Union, (1940) 16 Cal. 2d 311; In re Blaney, supra, 30 Cal. 2d 643). It was recognized, however, that the states could set the limits of permissible contest open to industrial combatants by prohibiting picketing in those cases where there was no interdependence of economic interest between the employer involved in the trade dispute and the employer subjected to the secondary picketing (Carpenters and Joiners Union v. Ritters Cafe, (1942) 315 U. S. 722). In Bakery and Pastry Drivers v. Wohl, (1942) 315 U. S. 769, the Federal Supreme Court reaffirmed the identification of free speech and picketing in just about as clear a case of secondary picketing as it is possible to find. In American Federation of Labor v. Swing, supra, 312 U. S. at 326, and in Cafeteria Employees v. Angelos, (1943) 320 U. S. 293, 296, it was said that a state cannot exclude workingmen from peacefully exercising the right of free communication (through picketing) "by drawing the circle of economic competition so small as to contain only an employer and those directly employed by him."

Nevertheless, within the past two years, the Supreme Court has recognized "compulsive features inherent in picketing, beyond the aspect of mere communication as an appeal to reason" (339 U.S. at 468). Thus the court has upheld state injunctions against peaceful picketing where the objective of the activity was in violation of state law or state public policy (Giboney v. Empire Storage and Ice Co., (1949) 336 U.S. 490; Hughes v. Superior Court, (1950) 339 U.S. 460; Building Service Employees International Union v. Gazzam, (1950) 339 U.S. 532; International Union v. Hanke, (1950) 339 U.S. 470).

Whether the rule of the recent cases is a new doctrine, or whether it represents the judicial unfolding of latencies hidden in the former doctrine, is beside the point. The fact is, that the past two years have witnessed a sharp curtailment of the constitutional protection formerly accorded to peaceful picketing. The improper objective, which will now permit the states to prohibit peaceful picketing, may be the violation of a state criminal statute (as in the Giboney case), violation of state public policy embodied in a statute (as in the Gazzam case), or violation of the State's public policy as declared by its courts (as in the Hughes and Hanke cases).

Prior to the 1949 and 1950 decisions of the Federal Supreme Court, the courts of California had given definite recognition to the protection accorded to peaceful picketing as an exercise of free speech (see, for example, McKay v. Retail Automobile Salesmen's Local Union, (1940) 16 Cal 2d 311; In re Blaney, supra). At the same time, however, the courts of this State had established the so-called "unlawful purpose" doctrine. According to this doctrine:

"* * * a state may impose limitations upon picketing or other concerted action if the 'end sought' is not permissible under state law and public policy, though any such limitations are subject to review by the United States Supreme Court, and will be annulled if they unreasonably interfere with labor's right to publicize the facts of a labor dispute."

James v. Marinship Corp., (1944) 25 Cal. 2d 721, 730.

In three subsequent cases injunctions against picketing have been upheld by the California Supreme Court where the purpose of the pressure was not a legitimate objective of union activity or where the objective was deemed by the court to be unlawful (Bautista v. Jones, (1944) 25 Cal. 2d 746; Northwestern Pac. R. Co. v. Lumber etc Union, (1948) 31 Cal. 2d 441; Hughes v. Superior Court, (1948) (32 Cal. 2d 580).

So far as Senate Bill No. 1228 might be made the basis for injunctions against secondary picketing, it appears to be hinged to the doctrine established in these recent decisions. The bill declares that the secondary strike and secondary boycott are contrary to the public policy of the State. The State has power, in the interest of the general public, to circumscribe the area of labor disputes; therefore, the State may, as a matter of public policy, outlaw secondary boycotts against third persons not directly involved in labor disputes; methods of labor pressure aimed at accomplishing a purpose contrary to the State's public policy are not constitutionally protected: ergo, such methods of labor pressure may be constitutionally prohibited—so runs the rationale upon which the bill is based. So far as this legislation may operate as a restraint upon such methods of labor pressure as secondary picketing, its rationale finds direct support in the recent decisions above-mentioned.

The bill, so far as it may serve as the basis for injunctions against secondary picketing, is therefore constitutional on its face. It is impossible, however, to predict or discuss every conceivable situation which may arise. The courts decide concrete cases, equipped not only with legal formulae, but also with facts. Here, we are in the position of discussing grave constitutional problems in the absence of a set of facts. Conduct which might fall into the category of a secondary boycott may consist only of oral or printed requests, appeals or communications. Such media of expression do not have the coercive effect of a picket line and may thus be accorded a greater degree of constitutional protection by the courts (see, for example, Northwestern Pac. R. Co. v. Lumber etc. Union, supra, 31 Cal. 2d at 448-450). It is possible, therefore, that cases will arise in which secondary boycott activity may not be constitutionally enjoined. Such a case would result in the invalidation of an injunction but not in the invalidity of the statute itself.

Generally, a statute may be invalid as applied to one set of facts yet valid as applied to another (Max Factor Co. v. Kunsman, (1936) 5 Cal. 2d 446, 468). In civil liberties cases, however, the courts are apt to say that a statute which sweeps within its ambit activities that in ordinary circumstances constitute an exercise of free communication, must fall in its entirety, even though it is possible that it could constitutionally apply in particular cases. It was on the latter basis that the former hot cargo law was invalidated in its entirety. (In re Blaney, supra, 30 Cal. 2d at 650-653). Nevertheless, the possibility that Senate Bill No. 1228 might be held unconstitutional as applied to particular activities, does not justify a blanket asseccion of invalidity. In the first place, there are marked differences between the former hot cargo law and the present bill. The former law (Labor Code Sec. 1134) prohibited mere agreements, or combinations, or mere inducements by peaceful communication. As noted in the Blaney case, its provisions were not "segregated in such a way as to differentiate between peaceful publicizing of the facts of a labor dispute and secondary boycotts involving economic pressure against third parties directly or indirectly associated with the dispute" (30 Cal. 2d at 655). In this statement of the California Supreme Court, we find an intimation that a statute differentiating between peaceful publication, on the one hand, and secondary economic pressure, on the other, would merit different treatment than the former hot cargo law. In effect, the former law was aimed directly at the means (e.g. peaceful communication) by which a secondary strike or secondary boycott can be carried out. The present bill, would in contrast aim at the result, the economic pressure asserted against employers not involved in the trade dispute. To prohibit the result may be to deprive the means of their natural fruit. Yet, so long as the law does not interfere with a constitutionally-protected means, a prohibition of the result would be regarded as an instance of the state's power "to set the limits of permissible contest open to industrial combatants" (Thornhill v. Alabama, supra, 310 U.S. at 103). In the second place, the recent holdings of the Federal Supreme Court have widened the area within which the states may constitutionally regulate the means employed by labor and have correspondingly narrowed the area within which the states are forbidden to act. To put it baldly, picketing may now be prohibited in a greater number of cases.

In our opinion, the possibility that the statute may in some cases be resorted to as a medium of restraint upon peaceful communication will not cause the invalidity of the statute itself, but will result only in an unconstitutional application of the statute in those particular cases.

The Thirteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, as well as Article I, Section 18, of the California Constitution, prohibit involuntary servitude. The Fourteenth Amendment protects certain fundamental freedoms, such as the liberty of contract, from state invasion. Is the ban on secondary strikes violative of these provisions? The Thirteenth Amendment has been said to be a guarantee of the "right to change employers" and "the right to be free from compulsory service" (Pollock v. Williams, (1919) 320 U.S. 4, 18). In California, without reference to any particular constitutional provision, it has been said that in the absence of contract the right of a workman to quit his employment is absolute (Southern California Iron and Steel Co. v. Amalgamated Association, (1921) 186 Cal. 604, 611). These decisions apparently do no more than emphasize that an individual employee has a constitutional right to quit his job. Nothing in the bill prevents any person from quitting work. Other decisions indicate that the right to strike is not absolute, but relative, and may be limited when it collides with other public interests. Dorchy v. Kansas, (1926) 272 U.S. 306, holds that neither the common law nor the Fourteenth Amendment confers the absolute right to strike and that a state may inhibit strikes for an illegal purpose. There is no right to engage in temporary work stoppages contrary to a state law (International Union v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, (1949) 336 U.S. 245). There is no right to strike in violation of a federal mutiny statute (Southern S.S. Co. v. NLRB, (1942) 316 U.S. 31). Somewhat contrary to the tenor of these latter decisions is Stapleton v. Mitchell, (1945) 60 Fed. Supp. 51, in which a three-judge federal court held that the right to engage in a peaceable secondary strike against the handling of unfair products is constitutionally protected, at least in the absence of a grave or immediate public danger. Whatever may be the actual rules of law pronounced in these cases, the decisions seem to result from a judicial balancing of the respective interests involved. In this case, the legislative declaration of the public interest in limiting the economic repercussions of labor disputes would be weighed against the quantum of infringement upon labor action (see American Communication Assn. v. Douds, (1950) 339 U.S. 382, 400-401; Northwestern Pac. R. Co. v. Lumber, etc. Union, supra, 31 Cal. 2d at 446-447). How this judicial balancing would turn out in the present case cannot be fully predicted. A great deal of doubt may be dispelled when the United States Supreme Court disposes of the secondary boycott cases (cited, infra) now pending before it. Basing our belief on the present trend of the decisions, we express the view that the state ban on secondary strikes would not be invalidated under the Thirteenth or Fourteenth Amendments, or their corresponding provisions in the State Constitution.

Another constitutional problem involved in this legislation is brought into sharp focus by the Federal Supreme Court's decision of February 26, 1951, in the case of Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, 95 L. Ed. Adv. 383. By the Taft-Hartley Act Congress has regulated labor relations to the full extent of its constitutional power under the commerce clause of the Federal Constitution. An exercise of the State's police power must yield when it comes in conflict with an affirmative exercise by Congress of its power to regulate commerce (11 Am. Jur. 26). In the Amalgamated case a Wisconsin statute prohibited strikes against public utilities and subjected the parties to compulsory arbitration. The Supreme Court decided that the state law could not constitutionally apply, since it conflicted with the superior federal law, the Taft-Hartley Act. There was a dissenting opinion which pointed out that the state law did not necessarily conflict with the federal statute.

The coverage of the Taft-Hartley Act is extremely broad, relating as it does to all industries "affecting (interstate or foreign) commerce." Federal labor legislation has been held to embrace a wide field of activity, usually regarded as local in nature, including manufacturing plants (International Union v. O'Brien, (1950) 339 U. S. 454), intrastate public utilities (Consolidated Edison Company v. NLRB, (1938) 305 U. S. 197; Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra) and even building projects (Shore v. Building and Construction Trades Council, (1949) 173 Fed. 2d 678, 8 A. L. R. 2d 731) and building maintenance (Ullo v. Smith, (1949) 177 Fed. 2d 101, 12 A. L. R. 2d 1122). Thus the Taft-Hartley Act covers a wide segment of economic activity in California, and the field for the operation of interfering state legislation is correspondingly narrowed.

The Taft-Hartley Act, like the Wagner Act, does not come within the rule that exclusion of state action may be implied from the very existence of a federal statute on the subject. Where a state law conflicts with the Taft-Hartley Act, the former will be held inapplicable. The conflict may arise when the state seeks to forbid or impose conditions on employees' rights guaranteed by the federal law (International Union v. O'Brien, supra; Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra). Conflict may exist where the state law interferes with the system of collective bargaining contemplated by the federal statute (Hill v. Florida, (1945) 325 U. S. 538; Bethlehem Steel Co. v. New York State Labor Relations Board, (1947) 330 U. S. 767; La Crosse Telephone Corp. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, (1949) 336 U. S. 18).

On the other hand, state laws dealing with mass picketing and intermittent work stoppages have been sustained as against the contention that they conflicted with the federal act (Allen-Bradley Local v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, (1942) 315 U. S. 740; International Union v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra). So has a state law which required a two-thirds vote for a union security agreement (Algoma Plywood and Veneer Co. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, (1949) 336 U. S. 301).

Section 8(b) (4) (A) of the Taft-Hartley Act (29 U. S. C. A., Sec. 158) declares a labor organization guilty of an unfair labor practice which engages in or induces a strike or refusal to handle products where an object is to force one employer to cease doing business with another employer. Generally speaking, the activity so forbidden is the secondary strike and secondary boycott in industries affecting interstate commerce. The first cases involving the secondary boycott prohibition of the Taft-Hartley Act are now pending before the Federal Supreme Court (United Brotherhood, Etc. v. NLRB, Docket No. 85; International Brotherhood, Etc. v. NLRB, No. 108; NLRB v. International Rice Milling Co., No. 313; NLRB v. Denver Building and Construction Trades Council, No. 393). In the lower federal courts Section 8(b) (4) (A) has been made the basis for injunctions against secondary picketing and secondary strikes, where the objective was to force one employer to cease doing business with another employer who was engaged in a labor dispute. See, for example, Printing etc. Union v. LeBaron, (1949) 171 Fed. 2d 331; Douds v. International Brotherhood, (1949) 85 Fed. Supp. 429; NLRB v. Wine, etc. Union, (1949) 178 Fed. 2d 584.

The federal statute protects labor's right to engage in concerted activities, such as peaceful strikes for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection (Sees. 7, 13; 29 U. S. C. A. Sees. 157, 163). It is clear, however, that this protection does not extend to secondary strikes or secondary boycotts, which are themselves prohibited by Section 8(b) (4) (A) of the same statute. Thus a state court injunction against a secondary strike or secondary boycott would not infringe the "concerted activity" guarantee of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The striking feature of Senate Bill No. 1228 is not that it conflicts with any substantive provision of the Taft-Hartley Act, but that injunctions issued under it would restrain the very same activity prohibited by the federal statute. Thus the question is: May a state law stand, which superimposes a consistent prohibition against labor practices already prohibited by the Taft-Hartley Act? The Supreme Court has said, for example, that concurrent state regulation of peaceful strikes for higher wages is not permissible, since Congress has occupied the field and closed it to state regulation (Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra, 95 L. Ed. at 387; International Union v. O'Brien, supra, 339 U. S. at 457). Conflict, then, is not the only basis for invalidation of a state law; concurrence may be sufficient.

In the decisions we find only one clue which might afford an answer to this question. Acting under a state statute, the Supreme Court of Wisconsin upheld an administrative agency's order which required reinstatement of an employee who had been discharged for refusing to join a union and which had found the employer and the union guilty of "unfair labor practices" (Wisconsin Employment Relations Board v. Plankinton Packing Co., (1949) 255 Wis. 285, 38 N. W. 2d 688). On a writ of certiorari, the Federal Supreme Court unanimously reversed the judgment. While no opinion was handed down, the court cited the Bethlehem Steel and La Crosse Telephone cases, supra, indicating that the ground of reversal was interference with the Taft-Hartley Act (Plankinton Packing Co. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, (1950) 338 U. S. 953). A subsequent statement of Mr. Justice Frankfurter indicates that the Wisconsin action was invalidated in the Plankinton case because Wisconsin "superimposed upon federal outlawry of conduct as an 'unfair labor practice' its own finding of unfairness" (Amalgamated Association v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra, 95 L. Ed. Adv. at 394, dissenting opinion).

If it is true that Congress has preempted the regulation of all conduct amounting to an "unfair labor practice" as defined by the federal law, then California is prevented from concurrently regulating the same conduct. Nevertheless, we cannot find in the Plankinton case anything more than inferential support for the proposition that the states are now powerless to prohibit labor practices which the Taft-Hartley Act also bans.* Apart from preemption by Congress, the states are free to characterize conduct as an "unfair labor practice" (Algoma Plywood and Veneer Co. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra, 336 U.S. at 305-306). Unlike the state action invalidated in the Plankinton case, Senate Bill No. 1228 does not seek to assert any systematic control over such matters as labor representation and collective bargaining. In cases of concurrent power over local aspects of commerce, state law remains effective so long as Congress has not manifested a clear purpose that it should be supplanted (Allen-Bradley Local v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, supra, 315 U.S. at 749-750). We cannot find in the federal law any positive indication of a congressional intent to assert an exclusively federal control over such "unfair labor practices" as secondary strikes and secondary boycotts. We are constrained, therefore, to hold that a state prohibition of secondary strikes and secondary boycotts does not seek entry into a field preempted by Congress.

State courts entertaining injunction actions against secondary strikes and secondary boycotts in industries affecting interstate commerce will, in many cases, be engaged in the exercise of a jurisdiction overlapping that of the National Labor Relations Board. Although the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board over unfair labor practices is no longer characterized as "exclusive" (29 U.S.C.A. Sec. 160(a), as amended), nevertheless it is held that the California courts have no jurisdiction to enjoin unfair labor practices committed in violation of the federal statute, exclusive jurisdiction thereof being reposed in the federal tribunals (Gerry of California v. Superior Court, (1948) 32 Cal. 2d 119; In re DeSilva, (1948) 33 Cal. 2d 76). Both these cases, however, involved actions brought to enforce the terms of the federal statute. There was no controlling state law which made the particular activities unlawful. Neither of these decisions is authority for the proposition that the state courts are powerless to restrain violations of state law which also offend concurrent provisions of federal law. Assuming but not deciding that the assumption of federal jurisdiction over a secondary strike or secondary boycott would divest the state courts of jurisdiction to entertain an action under Senate Bill No. 1228, we believe that the state courts would nevertheless possess jurisdiction to restrain violations of the state law in the following cases: (1) where the National Labor Relations Board does not assume jurisdiction over the same set of facts; (2) where the activity has no relationship with interstate or foreign commerce, and (3) where the activity is otherwise outside the scope of the Taft-Hartley Act. The possibility of federal-state jurisdictional conflicts does not result in the invalidity of Senate Bill No. 1228, but only in the narrowing of its scope of operation.

* The exact effect of the "opinionless" Plankinton case is a matter for speculation. Some authorities believe that adherence to the Plankinton case would require a holding that the federal legislation precludes intervention by a state in the field of secondary boycotts affecting interstate commerce (Cox & Seidman, "Federalism and Labor Relations," 64 Harv. L.R. 211, 237). On the other hand, according to Mr. Chief Justice Vinson, the Plankinton decision merely shows that the states may not regulate in respect to activities protected by section 7 of the Taft-Hartley Act (Amal. Assn. v. Wis. Emp. Rel. Bd., supra, 95 L. Ed. Adv. at 387, footnote 12). As we have seen, however, secondary strikes and secondary boycotts are not among the activities protected by the federal law, which itself characterizes these same instrumentalities as an "unfair labor practice." The logical pursuit of the Vinson view leads to the conclusion that the Plankinton rule does not bar the states from adopting concurrent regulation of secondary strikes and secondary boycotts.

The last sentence of Section 1131, as proposed by the bill, reads: "The Legislature further declares the public policy of this State to be that the interests of labor in improving working conditions does not justify acts specifically intended to cause a breach of contractual relations between employers." This sentence is so broadly worded, and subject to so many debatable interpretations, that it is not possible to discuss its constitutionality in the light of the actual cases which may arise under it. One possible interpretation would limit this provision to instances where a breach of contract between employers was induced through the instrumentality of a secondary strike or secondary boycott; in which case, however, this provision would be surplusage, since the secondary strike or secondary boycott would itself be enjoined under the preceding sentence of the section. On the other hand, this last sentence might be construed to cover cases in which unions engage in peaceful primary strikes, thereby rendering their employers unable to deliver merchandise according to contractual commitments; or a case in which a union entered into a collective bargaining contract with less than all of a group of employers who had theretofore agreed to bargain with labor on an industry-wide basis.

It is difficult to predict how the courts would dispose of this last sentence of the bill. Given a broad interpretation, it might be held to conflict with the collective bargaining provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act; or, having determined that it was not limited to secondary strike and secondary boycott cases, the courts might decide that this sentence, considered as the basis for an injunction, is void for uncertainty (In re Blaney, supra, 30 Cal. 2d at 653-656). The possible invalidity of the last sentence would not, in our opinion, be fatal to the entire section, since the last sentence is mechanically severable from the preceding portion, while the preceding portion seems to be complete in itself (In re Bell (1942), 19 Cal. 2d 483, 498).

An opinion such as the present should be regarded with some care. The field of constitutional law possesses many uncertainties. In these days of split decisions by the United States Supreme Court doctrinaire constitutional assertions should be avoided. What appears to be an opinion may turn out to be a mere prediction. In discussing the validity of this legislation we have nothing to do with its wisdom, policy or expediency; that is solely for the Legislature (Watson v. Division of Motor Vehicles (1931), 212 Cal. 279, 285-286). Fundamental constitutional protections accorded to labor, as to all citizens, should not be lightly brushed aside; neither should the Legislature's judgment of social and economic needs. The views expressed here represent our best-considered appraisal of the conclusions the courts would reach, when and if they are confronted with these grave and difficult questions.

Senate Bill No. 1212, entitled "An act to amend Sections 1394 and 1395 of, and to add Section 1394.5 to the Labor Code, relating to child labor."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill and Assembly Bill 3177 both deal with child labor and are practically identical. There are slight differences but the main provisions of the two bills are the same. The Assembly bill reached this office first and the subject of their similarity has been discussed with both authors.

It has been agreed by the authors of the two bills that it will be satisfactory for only the Assembly bill to be signed and accordingly I am returning Senate Bill 1212 without approval.

Respectfully submitted,

Article 2. Proceeding After Retirement of Existing Obligations

30609. For the purposes of this article, the date of retirement of all outstanding revenue bonds for which the revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge are pledged, and the repayment to the State of California of all sums required by this chapter or by any other law including those enacted at the 1951 Session of the Legislature to be repaid to the State of California is completed, is hereby designated as "the operative date".

30610. After the operative date, the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works shall continue to collect tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for the following purposes:

(A) To provide a fund for the current and future costs of operations, maintenance and insurance of said bridge including a reasonable amount to be determined by the California Toll Bridge Authority for contingencies.

(B) For the repayment into the State Highway Fund of all sums paid from said fund for operation, maintenance and insurance on said bridge from its inception to the operative date. Said sums so paid into the State Highway Fund shall be credited to the moneys available for construction of state highways in County Group No. 1, as specified in Section 187 of the Streets and Highways Code. The Department of Public Works shall certify to the California Toll Bridge Authority the amount of such expenditures from the State Highway Fund to be repaid as above provided.

(C) For improvements to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

(D) For improvement and completion of a system of approaches to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge (including a tube under the estuary between the Cities of Oakland and Alameda in the County of Alameda, with necessary connections to make the approaches to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge from Alameda continuous, and a freeway from the westerly end of said bridge to connect with freeway projects on the State Highway System in the City and County of San Francisco, said projects being hereby declared to be necessary as approaches to said bridge). Said approaches shall be limited to those within 10 miles of the westerly terminus of the bridge at Fifth Street in the City and County of San Francisco and within 10 miles of the Toll Plaza at the easterly end of the bridge. As nearly as practicable to permit the completion of particular projects, equal amounts shall be allocated for such projects on the west and east sides of San Francisco Bay, respectively.

(E) If and when federal legislation authorizes the collection of tolls for such purposes, for necessary surveys, engineering, and preparation of plans and specifications in accordance with the California Toll Bridge Authority Act, for a new bridge or other new highway crossing between the City and County of San Francisco and the County of Alameda to be located southerly of the existing San Francisco Oakland Bay Bridge in an amount not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) to be used to complete such studies, plans and specifications of such new bridge or other new highway crossing to substantially the extent that engineering studies, plans and specifications have been completed for the construction of a bridge adjacent and substantially parallel to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

30611. The California Toll Bridge Authority shall determine from time to time the amounts necessary for the current operation, maintenance and insurance on said bridge, including contingencies, and the balance shall be available for the remaining purposes specified in this article.

30612. Unless or until, after the operative date, California Toll Bridge Authority issues any revenue bonds for any of the purposes above mentioned, all of the revenues in excess of those so found necessary for current operation, maintenance and insurance shall be repaid into the State Highway Fund to be used for construction of state highways in County Group No. 1, as above provided, until the total amount expended for operation, maintenance and insurance from the State Highway Fund prior to the operative date has been repaid, except that in the event of the enactment of federal legislation mentioned in subparagraph (E) of Section 30610, the sum of not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be used for the purposes mentioned in said subparagraph before such repayment into the State Highway Fund; and thereafter such excess revenue shall be available for the purposes mentioned in subparagraphs (C) and (D) of Section 30610, and the California Toll Bridge Authority may authorize the Department of Public Works to construct such improvements to the existing bridge or to construct such approaches or portions thereof as are deemed by it to be most needed and for which funds would be available. Contracts may be let based on accumulated revenues and revenues anticipated for not to exceed one year, as soon as such revenues would furnish sufficient money to cover progress payments.

30613. After the operative date, the California Toll Bridge Authority may issue new bonds for the purpose of improving the existing bridge, building or improving approaches to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, as specified in subparagraph (D) of Section 30610. In the event of such new issuance of bonds, maintenance, operation and insurance charges shall be payable from tolls. In issuing such bonds the California Toll Bridge Authority shall provide for the repayment of the State Highway Fund for past maintenance, operation and insurance charges as specified in subparagraph (B) of Section 30610, and in the event of the enactment of the federal legislation mentioned in subparagraph (E) of said section, for the purposes outlined therein, out of the proceeds of said bonds. The provisions of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act shall apply to all such issues of bonds, and they shall be secured by the revenues of the existing bridge.

30614. The authority to take the proceedings specified in this article granted to the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works shall be subject to compliance with any applicable provisions of federal law at the time any such action is taken.

30615. Nothing in this article shall restrict or impair any power of the California Toll Bridge Authority or the Department of Public Works under the California Toll Bridge Authority Act or related statutes as the same exist on the effective date of this article."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following communication from the Department of Public Works printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

SACRAMENTO 7, June 12, 1951

Hon. George J. Hatfield

*State Senate, State Capitol
Sacramento, California*

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: In response to your request for certain specific information relative to:

1. The average annual maintenance cost per mile of state highways in the northern county group.
2. The mileage on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and its approaches.
3. Operation, maintenance, repairs and insurance and other expenditures on the Bay Bridge from the State Highway Fund.

In answer to question No. 1:

Records of the Division of Highways indicate that for the Fiscal Year 1937-1938 the average cost per mile for maintenance of state highways in the 45 northern counties was $925.

Our records show a similar average cost per mile figure for the Fiscal Year 1949-50 to be $1,587.

During this period costs of all operations and materials have risen as never before and while there is an increase in maintenance costs of some 72 percent in these 12 years, it should be noted that during the same time vehicle miles of travel on the rural State Highway System increased approximately 80 percent.

It should be noted that the great increase in multiple lane highway development on the State Highway System during recent years is a factor which has very considerable effect upon the increase in maintenance costs per mile.

In answer to question No. 2:

Length of San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge (structures and island)-----	5.153 miles
Length of approaches in San Francisco (Fifth Street)-----	0.116 mile
Length of approaches in Oakland (to easterly end of distribution structure)-----	2.423 miles
Additional approaches (beyond distribution) financed with legislative approach funds-----	2.872 miles

In answer to question No. 3:

There is attached a tabulation of all expenditures from the State Highway Fund for operation, maintenance and insurance of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge by years from its opening to February 28, 1951.

It is hoped that the data furnished will be of value to you.

Very truly yours,

G. T. McCOY, State Highway Engineer

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, as amended, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 6358 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6358. [Any maximum rate of tax for any district may be increased] Any maximum rate of tax for any district may be increased and, having been increased, may be decreased by an amount equal to or less than the amount of such increase, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the school district at an election which may be called by the governing board of the school district of its own motion and shall be [called whenever a petition requesting that an election be called and signed by 10 percent of the qualified electors of the district is presented to the governing board] called within 90 days after the filing with the governing board of a petition signed by not less than 10 percent of the qualified electors of the district, requesting that an election be called, unless the petitioners request that the election be consolidated with the annual election for members of the governing board.

Any decrease in an increased maximum tax rate pursuant to this section shall not be in an amount which will reduce the tax rate for the district below the maximum specified in Section 6357. The governing board shall determine whether the increase or decrease shall remain in effect for a specified or unspecified period of time, unless the petition filed by the electors provides for a specified or unspecified period of time. If a specified period is provided for in the petition or determined upon by the governing board, such period shall be stated on the ballot.

The governing board of the school district shall call, hold, and conduct the election. Except as provided in this section, the election shall be called, held, and conducted by the governing board of the school district in as nearly the same manner as is practicable as are elections for governing boards [, except that] . Notices of the election [need not] shall be posted or publication completed [published more than] at least 30 days before the election. The ballot used in the election shall contain substantially the words "Shall [for] the proposed (increase decrease) in the maximum tax rates from ----- to -----, [to provide money for the purpose of -----,] (such rate to be in effect in the ----- school district for the year (or years) 19-- to 19--,) be authorized? " [---yes" and "for the proposed increase in the maximum tax rates from ----- to -----, to provide money for the purpose of -----, such rate to be in effect in the ----- school district for the year (or years) 19-- to 19--, --no."] Opposite such words, in separate lines, the words "yes" and "no" shall be printed, with a voting square opposite each such word. Each voter shall stamp or print a cross in the voting square after the answer he desires to give. If the maximum tax rate of a district has been increased prior to the effective date of the amendment to this section at the 1951 Regular Session of the Legislature, a petition requesting an election for the decrease of such increased tax rate shall not be filed until three years after such effective date. If the maximum tax rate is increased pursuant to this section after such effective date, no petition requesting an election for a decrease in such increased tax rate shall be filed for one year after such election at which the tax rate was increased.

If an election for a decrease in an increased maximum tax rate of a district is held in any year prior to or concurrently with the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall become effective on July 1st following the election. If an election for a decrease in an increased tax rate of a district is held in any year after the date of the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall not become effective until July 1st of the next succeeding year."

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of said bill, as amended, strike out lines 2 to 12, inclusive; and on page 2, strike out lines 5 to 11, inclusive.

Amendment No. 5

On page 2 of said bill, as amended, after line 17, insert

"Sec. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It will be necessary for many school districts to hold elections in the months of June, July, and August, 1951, in order to change the maximum tax rate for the district before next tax levy is made. Under the provisions of this act, a school district may decrease its tax rate, and, if the rate is proposed to be increased, it is not necessary that the ballot question specify the purpose for which the proceeds of any increase are to be applied, nor is it necessary to limit the period of time during which such increase or decrease will be effective. Unless this act takes effect immediately any decrease or increase in the tax rate voted for pursuant to the act will not be effective in time to be used for the next tax levy. In order that school districts, the tax rates of which are a matter of urgent concern to all the people of the State, may take advantage of this act before the next tax levy is made and to avoid a year's delay, it is urgently necessary that this act take effect immediately."

REPORT OF SENATE SPECIAL COMMITTEE FOR A PERMANENT
MEMORIAL FOR SENATOR CHRIS N. JESPERSEN

STATE SENATE, SACRAMENTO, June 13, 1951

To the President and the Members of the Senate:

Your committee, appointed pursuant to motion (S. J. March 12, 1951, p. 543) to study proposals to establish a bronze plaque in the State Capitol as a permanent memorial to the late Senator Chris N. Jespersen, reports and recommends as follows:

Your committee has inquired as to the possible types of memorials suitable as a permanent memorial to Senator Jespersen, and finds that there is in San Luis Obispo County, a special school for children afflicted with cerebral palsy. The name of the school is the Chris Jespersen School, and was so named as a tribute to Senator Jespersen because of his great interest and effort in establishing the school.

This school was a project most dear to the heart of Senator Jespersen, and one to which he gave unlimited time and he continued to devote himself to its maintenance and to the improvement of its facilities until the time of his unfortunately early death. Your committee feels that there could be no more fitting permanent memorial to the memory of Senator Jespersen than the maintenance of the Chris Jespersen School, the very nature of which is in itself a testimonial to the great compassionate heart of Chris Jespersen as we in this Senate knew him; the school being devoted, as he was, to the alleviation of human suffering. He never tired of working in behalf of projects which would contribute to the happiness, well being, and health of California's young people.

Your committee has learned that since Senator Jespersen's death, neighbors and friends throughout the State wishing to honor his memory have contributed to the support of the Chris Jespersen School sums in excess of one thousand four hundred dollars, which moneys are in the custody of the County Superintendent of Schools of San Luis Obispo County under whose jurisdiction the Chris Jespersen School is administered, and will be used for the maintenance of the school and for the purchase of the special types of equipment needed in the work of the school in correctional training of cerebral palsy sufferers.

Your committee recommends that a committee of three (3) be appointed to receive donations from Members of this Senate and other friends throughout the State, to be sent to the County Superintendent of Schools of San Luis Obispo County for the maintenance and support of the Chris Jespersen School.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE J. HATFIELD, Chairman
H. L. PARKMAN
FRED WEYBRET

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE, SENATE, June 11, 1951

*President of the Senate
California Legislature
Sacramento, California*

MR. PRESIDENT: Pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 35, read and adopted by the Senate of California on July 2, 1949, at the Regular Session of the Legislature, the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Establishing a Port Authority for San Francisco herewith submits its official report in three parts, including Part One, issued April 23, 1951; Part Two, dated June 4, 1951, and Part Three, to be available on or before July 1, 1951.

The study made by the committee was undertaken for the purpose of determining whether or not some form of cooperative harbor-wide plan and agency was essential to the welfare of the individual ports and to the economic prosperity of the San Francisco Bay region and of the State. In the preparation of the report, studies have been made of the port facilities of San Francisco Bay, of the legal provisions under which Bay area ports operate, and of their operating and management records. Since waterborne commerce and related transportation facilities and services provide valuable contributions to the industrial and agricultural economy of the Bay area and the State, the committee report also offers a detailed analysis of various segments of world trade moving through the Golden Gate.

The committee wishes to express its sincere appreciation to officials and agencies of federal, state and municipal government, to the officials and representatives of many public and private organizations, to the port authorities and terminal operators of the Bay area and of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Coast harbor regions, for their assistance and counsel to the committee and to its staff in the conduct of this study and the preparation of the report.

Respectfully submitted,

JESSE M. MAYO, Chairman
ARTHUR H. BREED, JR., Vice Chairman
CHARLES BROWN
GEORGE J. HATFIELD
GERALD J. O'GARA
BEN HULSE
HAROLD J. POWERS

Letter of transmittal ordered printed in the Journal and the Report, Part One, Part Two, and Part Three, ordered printed in the Appendix to the Journal.

Article 2. Proceeding After Retirement of Existing Obligations

30609. For the purposes of this article, the date of retirement of all outstanding revenue bonds for which the revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge are pledged, and the repayment to the State of California of all sums required by this chapter or by any other law including those enacted at the 1951 Session of the Legislature to be repaid to the State of California is completed, is hereby designated as "the operative date".

30610. After the operative date, the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works shall continue to collect tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for the following purposes:

(A) To provide a fund for the current and future costs of operations, maintenance and insurance of said bridge including a reasonable amount to be determined by the California Toll Bridge Authority for contingencies.

(B) For the repayment into the State Highway Fund of all sums paid from said fund for operation, maintenance and insurance on said bridge from its inception to the operative date. Said sums so paid into the State Highway Fund shall be credited to the moneys available for construction of state highways in County Group No. 1, as specified in Section 187 of the Streets and Highways Code. The Department of Public Works shall certify to the California Toll Bridge Authority the amount of such expenditures from the State Highway Fund to be repaid as above provided.

(C) For improvements to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

(D) For improvement and completion of a system of approaches to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge (including a tube under the estuary between the Cities of Oakland and Alameda in the County of Alameda, with necessary connections to make the approaches to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge from Alameda continuous, and a freeway from the westerly end of said bridge to connect with freeway projects on the State Highway System in the City and County of San Francisco, said projects being hereby declared to be necessary as approaches to said bridge). Said approaches shall be limited to those within 10 miles of the westerly terminus of the bridge at Fifth Street in the City and County of San Francisco and within 10 miles of the Toll Plaza at the easterly end of the bridge. As nearly as practicable to permit the completion of particular projects, equal amounts shall be allocated for such projects on the west and east sides of San Francisco Bay, respectively.

(E) If and when federal legislation authorizes the collection of tolls for such purposes, for necessary surveys, engineering, and preparation of plans and specifications in accordance with the California Toll Bridge Authority Act, for a new bridge or other new highway crossing between the City and County of San Francisco and the County of Alameda to be located southerly of the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge in an amount not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) to be used to complete such studies, plans and specifications of such new bridge or other new highway crossing to substantially the extent that engineering studies, plans and specifications have been completed for the construction of a bridge adjacent and substantially parallel to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

30611. The California Toll Bridge Authority shall determine from time to time the amounts necessary for the current operation, maintenance and insurance on said bridge, including contingencies, and the balance shall be available for the remaining purposes specified in this article.

30612. Unless or until, after the operative date, California Toll Bridge Authority issues any revenue bonds for any of the purposes above mentioned, all of the revenues in excess of those so found necessary for current operation, maintenance and insurance shall be repaid into the State Highway Fund to be used for construction of state highways in County Group No. 1, as above provided, until the total amount expended for operation, maintenance and insurance from the State Highway Fund prior to the operative date has been repaid, except that in the event of the enactment of federal legislation mentioned in subparagraph (E) of Section 30610, the sum of not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) may be used for the purposes mentioned in said subparagraph before such repayment into the State Highway Fund; and thereafter such excess revenue shall be available for the purposes mentioned in subparagraphs (C) and (D) of Section 30610, and the California Toll Bridge Authority may authorize the Department of Public Works to construct such improvements to the existing bridge or to construct such approaches or portions thereof as are deemed by it to be most needed and for which funds would be available. Contracts may be let based on accumulated revenues and revenues anticipated for not to exceed one year, as soon as such revenues would furnish sufficient money to cover progress payments.

30613. After the operative date, the California Toll Bridge Authority may issue new bonds for the purpose of improving the existing bridge, building or improving approaches to the existing San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, as specified in subparagraph (D) of Section 30610. In the event of such new issuance of bonds, maintenance, operation and insurance charges shall be payable from tolls. In issuing such bonds the California Toll Bridge Authority shall provide for the repayment of the State Highway Fund for past maintenance, operation and insurance charges as specified in subparagraph (B) of Section 30610, and in the event of the enactment of the federal legislation mentioned in subparagraph (E) of said section, for the purposes outlined therein, out of the proceeds of said bonds. The provisions of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act shall apply to all such issues of bonds, and they shall be secured by the revenues of the existing bridge.

30614. The authority to take the proceedings specified in this article granted to the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works shall be subject to compliance with any applicable provisions of federal law at the time any such action is taken.

30615. Nothing in this article shall restrict or impair any power of the California Toll Bridge Authority or the Department of Public Works under the California Toll Bridge Authority Act or related statutes as the same exist on the effective date of this article."

Request for Unanimous Consent

Senator O'Gara asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding "Senate Bill No. 457—San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, and the Use of Revenues Therefrom" printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

June 14, 1951

Hon. Gerald J. O'Gara
Senate Chamber

Senate Bill No. 457—San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, and the Use of Revenues Therefrom—No. 9816

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA: You have asked our opinion whether Senate Bill No. 457, as amended May 23, or as proposed to be amended by amendments printed on page 3293 of the Senate Journal for June 15 is required to be referred to the Senate Finance Committee under the Standing Rules of the Senate. You also ask how many votes are required to pass the bill in the Senate.

It is our opinion that the bill should be referred to the Senate Committee on Finance, particularly if the proposed amendments are adopted. The bill may be passed in the Senate by 21 votes.

In the time available we have been unable to determine whether the bill in its present proposed or amended form actually makes an appropriation. However, regardless of whether it does or does not make an appropriation it would appear that the Senate Rules require reference of the bill to the Committee on Finance, in view of the provision in Standing Rule No. 12 providing that:

"Any bill which would require the expenditure of additional state moneys in any manner, including any bill which creates any additional state agency or office, or adds any functions, duties, or responsibilities to an existing agency or office, shall be referred to the Finance Committee before being placed on Third Reading."

The bill may be passed by 21 votes in the Senate, that is by a majority of all the members elected to the Senate. Here again it is immaterial whether the bill makes an appropriation since the bill affects a special fund and not General Fund money. The provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution requiring a two-thirds vote on certain appropriation bills applies only to appropriations from the General Fund.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By LAWRENCE G. ALLYN, Deputy

Two copies to Hon. Arthur H. Breed, Jr., pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

Senator O'Gara moved that Senate Bill No. 457 be re-referred to Committee on Finance, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 12, subsection 5, of the Standing Rules of the Senate.

Motion to Suspend Rule 12, Subsection 5

Senator Breed moved that Rule 12, subsection 5, of the Standing Rules of the Senate be suspended during the consideration of Senate Bill No. 457.

The roll was called, and the motion carried by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Abshire, Breed, Brown, Burns, Busch, Byrne, Dillinger, Dilworth, Dorsey, Erhart, Hatfield, Hoffman, Hulse, Ed C. Johnson, Kraft, Mayo, McBride, McCarthy, Parkman, Sutton, Ward, Watson, Way, Weybret, and Williams—25.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, June 13, 1951

To the Senate of the State of California

I have the honor to inform you that I propose to make the following appointment, and respectfully request your confirmation thereof and consent thereto:

Message read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, June 14, 1951

To the Honorable Members of the Senate

State of California

Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 58, entitled: "An act to add Section 1593.4 to the Education Code, relating to the formation, annexation, and change of boundaries of school districts declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

My objections to the bill are as follows:

This bill would add a new section to the Education Code to provide that when any proceeding for a change in school district boundaries is challenged in court, the change shall not become effective for any purpose until the first day of July following the first day of February after the final determination of the court action. I have been informed that this bill was introduced to take care of a situation in Santa Clara County, but that upon further examination it has been determined that the bill may not be of assistance under the circumstances there existing. This bill applies to an action to challenge a change in school district boundaries. The proceeding in that county involves a change in city boundaries which, by operation of law, will automatically operate to change school district boundaries. The bill would, of course, have state-wide effect and it might make it possible for a disgruntled minority, or any individual, dissatisfied with a change in school district boundaries to delay proceedings so long as he could maintain an action alive to the various courts. I doubt that this is desirable legislation.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction suggests that this bill will have the effect of permitting any person dissatisfied with a change of boundaries of school districts, or annexation proceedings, to nullify for an indeterminate period of time the action of the board of supervisors in the case of a change of boundaries established by them or the will of the majority of the qualified electors residing in a school district in those instances in which an election is required to effect an annexation of one district to another.

This situation has been discussed with representatives of the school district involved, and with the author. I am informed that both are agreeable to my returning this bill without my approval. For these reasons, I am returning it without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

Senate Bill No. 58 ordered placed on unfinished business file.

"SEC. 2. This act is an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Many parcels of property have been acquired by the State in various localities on which to build state office buildings, and the properties have been cleared ready for construction. The present embargo prescribed by the Federal Government on the construction of office buildings will not permit the State to make immediate use of the properties for the purposes for which they were acquired. If these areas can be graded and given temporary surfacing the State can derive considerable revenue by leasing them for public parking purposes. This act will permit money now received by the Department of Finance from rental of these properties to be used to make such improvements. The sooner the improvements can be made the sooner can the State obtain revenue from leases which can be entered into when the property has been improved for temporary parking use. It is necessary, therefore, that this act take effect immediately."

By Senator Hulse:

Senate Resolution No. 190

Relative to a Senate Committee on State and Local Taxation to make inquiry into every phase of taxation, creating the committee and defining its powers and duties.

WHEREAS, The economy of the State of California has during the recent years gone through a revolutionary change, so that industry has assumed an increased importance in relation to agriculture, mining, and commerce; and

WHEREAS, This change has resulted in bringing into the State industries and properties of large value which have not previously been considered in our tax structure, and has created new governmental problems; and

WHEREAS, The increased population incident to this change in our economy has also created new governmental problems and made new demands upon both local and state governments; and

WHEREAS, The unprecedented growth of motor transportation and the change over to the use of diesel fuel in motor transportation during the war period, together with the added population of our State and the concentration in industrial centers, has materially changed the requirements for the support of highways, streets, and bridges; and

WHEREAS, It appears that there may be large sums in the way of federal subsidies granted both to the State and local governments which will directly affect the revenue structure and will require careful examination to coordinate the disposition of these subsidies equitably into the entire revenue program of both state and local governments; and

WHEREAS, From the beginning of the State's history, the ad valorem tax has been and still is the fiscal mainstay of local government and has not been adjusted to meet the new conditions; and

WHEREAS, The administration of taxation by the State and by the local governments has not been modernized, in fact has not been materially changed to bring it into line with present or prospective needs; and

WHEREAS, The relative burden of our several taxes on the different classes of taxpayers and different classes of property has not been fully determined; and

WHEREAS, There are new classes of property and rights that have grown up in the State that are not subject to taxation; and

WHEREAS, The acquisition, holding and exchange of land in this State by the United States of America has many aspects and involves varied and varying relationships, including the bearing and effect thereof upon taxes levied or leviable by the State and by local governmental units within the State; and

WHEREAS, Neither the State nor local governments have available to their legislative bodies information concerning all the varied phases of this problem adequate to legislative consideration and action in the endeavor to find and effect a solution; and

WHEREAS, For many years the burdens of government have been increasing both for the State and local governments, including many fixed charges not controllable by administrative bodies but brought about in answer to the demand of the people expressed in continuing legislation or in constitutional requirements, it is imperative that an appraisal be made so that revenues may be made adequate to meet the demands of government, both local and state, and the burdens of taxation may be equitably distributed upon and among the several classes of property and of taxpayers; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, As follows:

"SECTION 1. Section 6358 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6358. [Any maximum rate of tax for any district may be increased] Any maximum rate of tax for any district may be increased and, having been increased, may be decreased by an amount equal to or less than the amount of such increase, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the school district at an election which may be called by the governing board of the school district of its own motion and shall be [called whenever a petition requesting that an election be called and signed by 10 percent of the qualified electors of the district is presented to the governing board] called within 90 days after the filing with the governing board of a petition signed by not less than 10 percent of the qualified electors of the district, requesting that an election be called, unless the petitioners request that the election be consolidated with the annual election for members of the governing board.

Any decrease in an increased maximum tax rate pursuant to this section shall not be in an amount which will reduce the tax rate for the district below the maximum specified in Section 6357. The governing board shall determine whether the increase or decrease shall remain in effect for a specified or unspecified period of time, unless the petition filed by the electors provides for a specified or unspecified period of time. If a specified period is provided for in the petition or determined upon by the governing board, such period shall be stated on the ballot.

The governing board of the school district shall call, hold, and conduct the election. Except as provided in this section, the election shall be called, held, and conducted by the governing board of the school district in as nearly the same manner as is practicable as are elections for governing boards [except that]. Notices of the election [need not] shall be posted or publication completed [published more than] at least 30 days before the election. The ballot used in the election shall contain substantially the words "Shall [for] the proposed [increase decrease] in the maximum tax rates from ----- to -----, [to provide money for the purpose of -----] (such rate to be in effect in the ----- school district for the year (or years) 19-- to 19--,) be authorized? " ["yes" and "for the proposed increase in the maximum tax rates from ----- to -----, to provide money for the purpose of -----, such rate to be in effect in the ----- school district for the year (or years) 19-- to 19--, "no."] Opposite such words, in separate lines, the words "yes" and "no" shall be printed, with a voting square opposite each such word. Each voter shall stamp or print a cross in the voting square after the answer he desires to give. If the maximum tax rate of a district has been increased prior to the effective date of the amendment to this section at the 1951 Regular Session of the Legislature, a petition requesting an election for the decrease of such increased tax rate shall not be filed until three years after such effective date. If the maximum tax rate is increased pursuant to this section after such effective date, no petition requesting an election for a decrease in such increased tax rate shall be filed for one year after such election at which the tax rate was increased.

If an election for a decrease in an increased maximum tax rate of a district is held in any year prior to or concurrently with the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall become effective on July 1st following the election. If an election for a decrease in an increased tax rate of a district is held in any year after the date of the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall not become effective until July 1st of the next succeeding year."

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of said bill, as amended, strike out lines 2 to 12, inclusive; and on page 2, strike out lines 5 to 11, inclusive.

Amendment No. 5

On page 2 of said bill, as amended, after line 17, insert

"Sec. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It will be necessary for many school districts to hold elections in the months of June, July, and August, 1951, in order to change the maximum tax rate for the district before next tax levy is made. Under the provisions of this act, a school district may decrease its tax rate, and, if the rate is proposed to be increased, it is not necessary that the ballot question specify the purpose for which the proceeds of any increase are to be applied, nor is it necessary to limit the period of time during which such increase or decrease will be effective. Unless this act takes effect immediately any decrease or increase in the tax rate voted for pursuant to the act will not be effective in time to be used for the next tax levy. In order that school districts, the tax rates of which are a matter of urgent concern to all the people of the State, may take advantage of this act before the next tax levy is made and to avoid a year's delay, it is urgently necessary that this act take effect immediately."

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

WATER PROJECT AUTHORITY OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
SACRAMENTO 5, CALIFORNIA, June 14, 1951

Hon. Joseph A. Beck

Secretary, California State Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. BECK: Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 48, as amended in the Senate on April 27, 1951, there is transmitted herewith a statement on status of investigation and studies with reference to possible future ownership and operation of the Central Valley Project by the State of California.

At the regular meeting of the Water Project Authority of the State of California held in Sacramento on June 27, 1944, representatives of several interests in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys appeared and requested the authority to make an investigation and study of the Central Valley Project with the objective of placing under local control the management and operation of the facilities of the project.

As a result of the hearing on the matter the following action was taken by the authority:

"Upon motion of Attorney General Kenny, seconded by State Treasurer Johnson and unanimously carried, the executive officer was directed to make a preliminary report as soon as practicable relative to the scope, cost, personnel required, time and other matters involved in making an investigation and report upon a proposal that the Water Project Authority be given control or measure of control and management of the Central Valley Project."

In accordance with the foregoing direction, a report was prepared and submitted to the authority at a meeting held on August 1, 1944. The report set forth an outline of an investigation, the personnel and time required, and the cost thereof. The report was reviewed and discussed and the following action taken by the authority:

"On motion of Director of Finance Dean, seconded by State Controller Riley, and unanimously carried, the executive officer was directed to have prepared a preliminary legal report on the power of the Water Project Authority to contract with the United States in connection with a report of the executive officer upon a proposal that the Water Project Authority be given control or a measure of control and management of the Central Valley Project and to present such report at the next regular meeting of the authority."

A preliminary legal report was prepared in accordance with the foregoing action of the authority, by Henry Holsinger, Associate Attorney of the Division of Water Resources, Department of Public Works, and presented to the authority at a meeting held on September 26, 1944. The report finds that, as of its date, both federal and state powers are ample if contemplated control and management is limited to operation and maintenance of the project. As to the execution of a repayment contract, the report further finds that there is no question concerning the power to do so under state law and that authority exists in federal law subject, however, to execution of appropriate contracts for providing revenues as part of the transaction. It is concluded in that report that if a contract were to include full transfer of title to project works, the powers of the Water Project Authority under state law are ample, but an act of Congress would be required to supply authorization from the standpoint of federal law.

After consideration of the legal report, the authority took the following action:

"It was moved by Director of Finance Dean, seconded by State Treasurer Johnson and unanimously carried, that the full record of the proceedings of the authority on the preparation of a report on the proposal that the Water Project Authority be given control or a measure of control and management of the Central Valley Project, be transmitted to members of the Joint Interim Committee on Water Problems; that said committee be requested to submit its views relative to the continuation by the authority of the study as outlined in the executive officer's report, dated July 31, 1944, and as to the desirability of transmitting the preliminary legal report, dated August 24, 1944, to all members of the State Legislature."

The full record of the proceedings of the authority in connection with this matter was submitted to the Joint Interim Legislative Committee on Water Problems on October 25, 1944, for consideration and action thereon. At the conclusion of a public hearing held by that committee on this and other matters in San Francisco on October 25, 1944, a resolution was adopted, concluding as follows:

"Now therefore be it resolved, That this committee unanimously recommends that the Water Project Authority make such an investigation of the matters aforesaid at the earliest possible time, and that at least five thousand dollars ($5,000) be allocated for that purpose, and such fund, and other sums as may be necessary, be used to accomplish the purpose aforesaid; and

"Be it further resolved, That the results of such investigation be submitted to the Legislature from time to time, beginning at the earliest possible date."

Under date of November 29, 1944, a copy of the resolution was transmitted by the executive secretary of the committee to the executive office of the Water Project Authority.

At a special meeting of the Water Project Authority held on January 16, 1945, the resolution of the Joint Interim Legislative Committee on Water Problems was considered. Upon motion of Attorney General Kenny, seconded by State Treasurer Johnson, and unanimously carried, the chairman of the authority was authorized and directed to request the Department of Finance for an allotment from the Emergency Fund in the sum of $5,000 for the purpose of making the study and preparing a report on the proposal. On January 29, 1945, an executive order was issued, making available to the authority the sum of $5,000.

Pursuant to the direction of the Water Project Authority, an outline of a study, comprising engineering, legal, financial, and contractual phases, was prepared, and work initiated thereunder.

The initial Central Valley Project was authorized by Section 2 of the Act of Congress, approved August 26, 1937. Changing conditions and many other factors have delayed progress on and completion of the investigation. The cost of the project as estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation has increased from $359,008,000 (December 31, 1944) to $615,166,000 (January 1, 1951), including the American River Development added by Public Law 356, Eighty-first Congress, First Session, approved October 14, 1949, and Sacramento Valley Irrigation Canals, added by Public Law 839, Eighty-first Congress, Second Session, approved September 26, 1950.

Water contracts have been entered into between the United States and 15 public districts for irrigation water and/or distribution systems.

Contracts also have been entered into between the United States and public and private agencies covering the sale of electric power from the project.

Revenues obtained from the sale of water and power from the project have been accumulating in substantial amounts, which have a bearing upon the financial feasibility of the project.

In view of these facts, it has been impractical to complete the study in all its phases. However, many financial analyses on certain bases and assumptions have been made. These analyses will be revised to accord with changed conditions and other phases will be investigated and reported upon pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 48.

Very truly yours

C. H. PURCELL
Director of Public Works,
Chairman

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Under the existing law, proceedings for the formation of a county high school district may be commenced, pursuant to Article 5, Chapter 11, Division 2 of the Education Code, upon a petition signed by only 50 qualified electors in the county. A county high school district formed under Article 5 would not ordinarily include other high school districts already in existence in the county. Therefore, the formation of a county high school district would, in most of the counties in the State, result in a school district composed of noncontiguous territory. Small areas of the district may be isolated by many miles from the larger portion or portions of the district. A school district composed of noncontiguous territory presents many difficult problems of administration and is unduly expensive to maintain. The transportation of pupils becomes a major problem and expense and the holding of school elections is complicated in districts composed of noncontiguous territory.

Unless this act takes effect immediately, it will be possible to commence proceedings for the formation of such a district before the provisions therefor are replaced.

In order to preserve the orderly structure and administration of the school districts of the State, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 3 to 28, inclusive; and strike out all of page 2, and insert

"§10.5. Fresh asparagus shall not be wilted, or crushed (except such injuries as are necessarily caused in proper sorting or packing); stalks shall not have badly broken, badly spreading or badly seeded tips and shall be free from decay and from damage caused by dirt, disease, insects, mechanical injury or other causes. Stalks of asparagus, shall not be badly crooked. "Damage" means any injury from the causes mentioned which materially affects the quality.

Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the asparagus stalks in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause. Asparagus which fails to meet these requirements only because of being "badly crooked" shall be considered as complying with this standard if the container in which it is packed is plainly marked on the outside of the end bearing other markings required by this section, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the word "crooks."

The grade classification for asparagus packed in bunches weighing not less than two pounds per bunch and the size designation for all other asparagus shall be as follows:

(a) Grade Classification. Bunches of asparagus classified according to the following designated grades shall contain the number of stalks indicated in each classification and shall weigh not less than two pounds net when packed. Not less than 12 bunches of asparagus so classified may be packed in standard container number 51 or 52.

Colossal, not more than 14 stalks to a bunch.

Jumbo, 15 to 20 stalks to a bunch.

Extra select, 21 to 28 stalks to a bunch.

Select, 29 to 42 stalks to a bunch.

Extra fancy, 43 to 67 stalks to a bunch.

Fancy, 68 to 100 stalks to a bunch.

In view of differences in climatic and other natural conditions prevailing south and east of San Geronio Pass, which causes fresh asparagus grown in that area to be satisfactory in quality only if a large portion of the stalk is green or colored, and therefore must be cut at a shorter length, as compared to asparagus grown in the area north and west of the San Geronio Pass, stalks of asparagus produced in the area south and east of San Geronio Pass shall have not more than two inches of white on the butt, except that not more than 20 percent of the stalks in any bunch, or when not packed in bunches, 20 percent of the stalks in any container, may have not to exceed two and one-half inches of white. When the stalks of asparagus produced in this area are less than seven and one fourth inches in length and packed in bunches they shall be classified according to the following designated grades:

Mammoth, not more than 17 stalks to a bunch.

Giant, 18 to 24 stalks to a bunch.

Fancy regal, 25 to 34 stalks to a bunch.

Regal, 35 to 52 stalks to a bunch.

Fancy standard, 53 to 78 stalks to a bunch.

Standard, 79 to 115 stalks to a bunch.

"Crooks" when packed in bunches shall have no more than 67 stalks to a bunch.

The number of stalks of asparagus packed in bunches shall not vary more than 10 percent from the count of the grade classification as marked, except that 10 percent, by count, of the bunches in any one container may exceed this tolerance.

(b) Size Designations. All other asparagus packed or placed in containers shall be graded and designated as to size in accordance with one of the following individual stalk size requirements:

Small, stalks which are [seven-sixteenths inch or less] less than six-sixteenths inch in diameter.

Medium, stalks which are six-sixteenths inch, but do not exceed nine-sixteenths inch in diameter.

Large, stalks which are [over seven-sixteenths] eight-sixteenths inch, but do not exceed thirteen-sixteenths inch in diameter.

Jumbo, stalks over thirteen-sixteenths inch in diameter.

Irregular sizes, no diameter requirement.

"Diameter" measurement shall mean the widest portion of the cross section of the stalk, measured at a point one inch above the end of the butt.

The size designation requirements as herein established shall apply to all stalks of asparagus in each container, except that 10 percent, by count, of the stalks in any container may be larger or smaller than the size designation specified.

All containers of asparagus shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end, the name of the person who first packed or authorized the packing of the asparagus, or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer, and in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the following:

1. In the case of asparagus packed in bunches that weigh not less than two pounds each the grade classification as herein established, except that crates of bunch packed asparagus which is badly crooked and so marked with the designation "crooks" need not bear any other grade classification. When bunches of different grades are packed in one container, the markings on each container shall clearly show the number of bunches of each grade.

2. In the case of all other asparagus the size designation as herein established, or the term "irregular sizes."

If 90 percent, by count, of the stalks of asparagus in any container have less than 50 percent of the length of the stalk white, the containers may be marked with the term "green."

All markings required by this section which are on containers less than one-half the size of standard containers numbers 51 and 52 may be in letters smaller than one-half inch in height; provided, such markings are in plain sight and in plain letters.

Asparagus packed in bunches that weigh not less than two pounds per bunch shall be in standard containers as follows:

(a) Bunches in which the stalks are seven and one-fourth inches or longer in length shall be in standard container number 51.

(b) Bunches in which the stalks are less than seven and one-fourth inches in length shall be in standard container number 52.

Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half of an inch in height with the words "irregular container."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Agriculture.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Coombs:

Senate Resolution No. 198

Relating to the allocation of funds for civil defense in the County of Napa

WHEREAS, The Cities of Napa, St. Helena, and Calistoga and the County of Napa have been designated by the Office of Civil Defense as Operational Area No. 3 within Mutual Aid Region No. 3; and

WHEREAS, Because of its proximity to large installations of the armed forces and centers of production, the area would be reasonably considered a critical target area in the event of war; and

WHEREAS, The construction of a communications network for Operational Area No. 3 and Mutual Aid Region No. 3 is a primary necessity for effective civil defense, which can only be accomplished by the expenditure of approximately two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000); now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the State Disaster Council, the Director of Civil Defense, the Director of Finance, and the Governor are requested to use their best efforts to accomplish the allocation of approximately two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), from the money available to the Office of Civil Defense, for the construction of a suitable communications network in Operational Area No. 3 and Mutual Aid Region No. 3, and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the State Disaster Council, the Director of Civil Defense, the Director of Finance, and the Governor.

Senate Resolution No. 199

Relative to widening the Black Point Sears Point Cutoff

WHEREAS, A serious traffic hazard exists on that part of State Highway Routes 8 and 208, known as the Black Point Sears Point Cutoff, because of ever increasing traffic and its substandard construction, which has resulted in numerous accidents and fatalities; and

WHEREAS, The highway in question is only two lanes in width with narrow shoulders for most of its length, affording no opportunity for emergency parking for disabled vehicles; and

WHEREAS, This highway is a vitally important military route and feeder route between U. S. Highway 101 in Marin County and U. S. Highway 40 in Sonoma County, serving the strategic Mare Island Navy Yard and the vast Hamilton Field Army Air Base, as well as being an essential farm-to-market road for agriculturists and shippers in Northern California; and

WHEREAS, The State Department of Public Works, in a report to the Senate requested by Senate Resolution No. 44 of the 1949 Regular Session, recommended improvement of State Highway Routes 8 and 208 as rapidly as funds would permit rather than to construct a new highway between Sears Point and Cordelia Wye on U. S. Highway 40 in Solano County; and

WHEREAS, This report stated that the "traffic on this route (Sears Point Cutoff) will continue to grow and firmly establishes demand for its retention and development of four lanes thereon" but no funds have been allocated since that report by the State Highway Commission for the improvement; and

WHEREAS, Widening of the road will not only remove the traffic hazard but provide a more adequate route to and from San Francisco via U. S. Highway 101 and thus relieve congestion on U. S. Highway 40, the main highway into San Francisco; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the California Highway Commission is requested to complete surveys and prepare plans and specifications for the widening to four lanes that portion of State Highway Routes 8 and 208, between U. S. Highway 101 in Marin County and U. S. Highway 40 in Solano County; and be it further

Resolved, That the California Highway Commission is requested to allocate and make available from the State Highway Fund such sum as may be necessary for the purpose of completing such survey and plans and specifications; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Public Works and said commission are requested to carry out such survey and plans as soon as possible, and to report thereon to the Senate on the convening of the 1952 Regular Session of the Legislature, including in such report the estimated cost of such widening improvement; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to send copies of this resolution to the Secretary of the California Highway Commission and to the Director of Public Works.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

(1) He has obtained consent to the transfer or assignment from the county to which his application for such public assistance was made or, if his application has been granted, from the county from which he is receiving such public assistance. The county may give such consent whenever it determines that the purposes of the law governing aid to the aged for which the owner of the real property has applied or which he has received will be served thereby.

(2) He has withdrawn his application for such public assistance before receiving any payment thereof.

(3) All such public assistance which he has heretofore received has been repaid to the county or counties from which he received it.

(b) Any person who makes any transfer or assignment of real property in violation of subdivision (a) of this section shall be ineligible to receive any public assistance for a period of time to be determined upon the basis of the period over which a valuable and adequate return for the grantor's equity in the property, had it been sold for a valuable and adequate consideration, would have supported the grantor.

(c) The State Department of Social Welfare may bring all actions necessary to secure the repayment of all public assistance received by the applicant for or recipient of public assistance. Any sum recovered shall be credited or paid to the United States Government, to the State, and to the county or counties which granted the public assistance in the proportion that each participated in the cost of the public assistance granted.

Such claim shall have the same priority as a judgment against the estate of the recipient.

Whenever the recipient leaves a surviving spouse, however, the claim of the county against the estate of the recipient shall be subordinate to the rights of the surviving spouse to that portion of the estate to be received by the surviving spouse, but superior to the rights of all other heirs, devisees, and legatees to any other portion of the estate, if the surviving spouse executes an agreement, specifically describing the portion of the estate to be received by the spouse, and acknowledged by the spouse in the same manner as a grant of real property, and recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any real property to be received by the spouse lies, that the surviving spouse will not transfer or encumber such property without the consent of the county, and consents to the provisions of this section. Upon the death of the surviving spouse, the county shall have all the rights of a judgment creditor against that portion of the estate of the spouse received by the spouse from the predeceased recipient and described in the agreement, in the amount of the public assistance granted to the recipient within five years preceding his death and after the effective date of this section, and not repaid to the county."

A pro tempore official reporter for such service may be appointed by the presiding judge of the court and the judge presiding in the department where such reporter will serve, but when such appointment is made for service in a contested matter, it shall be made only pursuant to a written stipulation of the parties appearing at the trial or hearing or other proceeding to be reported by such pro tempore reporter.

The salary of the regular official phonographic reporters shall be the sum of seven thousand two hundred dollars ($7,200) per annum, and the compensation of official phonographic reporters pro tempore shall be at the rate of twenty-five dollars ($25) per day.

No further fee than that hereinabove provided shall be collected from, or assessed against, any party to any proceeding for the services of a phonographic reporter in taking down in shorthand the testimony and other proceedings in the trial or hearing of any matter as required by law or by order of the court; but a phonographic reporter shall be allowed, and shall receive, unless waived by him, the fees now, or that may hereafter be, allowed by law for transcribing his shorthand notes of the testimony and proceedings reported by him, and such fees for transcriptions shall be paid as provided by Section 274 of the Code of Civil Procedure and by any other law of this State pertinent to the case.

The salaries in this section provided shall be paid in monthly installments out of the salary fund of the county, or city and county, and shall be allowed and audited in the same manner as other salary demands against the county, or city and county, are required by law to be allowed and audited.

In addition to a fee or fees required by any other law or laws, a fee of four dollars ($4) shall be paid to the county clerk of such a county, or city and county, by each party, or jointly by parties appearing jointly, in each of the following instances:

(1) Where Section 26821 of the Government Code requires such party or parties to pay said clerk a fee for the filing of the first paper in a civil action or in a special proceeding, except in an appeal from an inferior court.

(3) Where Section 26826 of the Government Code requires such party or parties to pay said clerk a fee on the appearance in a civil action or special proceeding of a defendant, intervenor, respondent, correspondent or adverse party, except in an appeal from an inferior court; provided, however, if any of the parties named in this paragraph shall appear jointly they shall pay but one such additional fee of four dollars ($4) as in this section provided.

(4) Where Section 26827 of the Government Code requires such party or parties to pay said clerk a fee for the filing of a petition or other paper in a probate or guardianship matter.

The fee so required shall be taxed as costs in favor of any party paying the same and to whom costs are awarded by the judgment of the court. Such fee shall not be subject to the provisions of Section 6103 of the Government Code.

The fee provided in this section shall not be required of any party who is exempted from the payment of costs by any statute other than Section 6103 of the Government Code.

The county clerk shall, on or before the first day of each calendar month, transmit to the county treasurer, or city and county treasurer, all moneys paid to him under the provisions of this section during the preceding calendar month, or up to the day immediately preceding the day on which he transmits such moneys, and such moneys shall be deposited in the salary fund of said county, or city and county."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 19, 1951*To the Senate of the State of California:*

I have the honor to inform you that I propose to make the following appointment, and respectfully request your confirmation thereof and consent thereto:

CHARLES KASCH, a resident of Ukiah; Member of the State Park Commission since March 25, 1944; to the State Park Commission, vice self, for the term prescribed by law, ending January 15, 1955.

Respectfully,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 19, 1951*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 459, entitled: "An act to add Section 459.6 to the Vehicle Code, relating to jurisdiction of the State Department of Public Works over boundary line streets and highways and vehicles using the same."

My objections to the bill are as follows:

This bill provides in part for the regulation of traffic on boundary line streets. Assembly Bill No. 986, which I have previously approved, makes provision for the same subject. The situation is covered more thoroughly in the Assembly bill and approval of that bill makes this bill unnecessary. Accordingly, I am returning this measure without by approval.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

Senate Bill No. 459 ordered placed on unfinished business file.

The weekly fees charged need not be uniform] equal to that specified in the fee schedule prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the Legislature that child care centers shall be made available first to those who have the greatest financial need [and to that end no money appropriated therefor shall be expended for the care or education of any child in a child care center unless a sliding scale of weekly fees shall have been adopted by the board of school district in which such child care center is maintained under which] . . . and the sliding scale of fees prepared by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall provide for a nominal fee [shall be charged] for children of families having a monthly income of less than one hundred fifty dollars ($150) or of less than forty dollars ($40) per member of the child's immediate family, and increasingly larger fees shall be charged for children of families having larger incomes. It is further declared to be the policy of the Legislature that the fee [scales] schedule shall, so far as reasonably possible, [be uniform for all child care centers, and that they shall] be established on such basis and in accordance with such principles as the [State Department of Education may recommend] Superintendent of Public Instruction may determine to insure proper administration of the child care center program and to establish uniform budgetary and accounting procedures.

SEC. 18. Section 19607.2 is added to said code, to read:

19607.2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prepare a schedule of fees which shall be used by each school district for the charging of fees to parents. The schedule shall, together with the estimated income to be derived from fees collected from parents pursuant to Section 19601.7, provide as nearly as possible an amount equal to one-half of the State-wide average state support per hour for children less than five years nine months of age as provided in this code. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion state funds to the districts using said state-wide average state support as a maximum, except that if the fees collected by any district shall for any month be more or less than one-half of the state-wide average state support per hour for children less than five years nine months of age, the average state-wide state support amount shall be increased or decreased in an amount equal to the amount the fees deviate from one-half of the average state-wide state support, provided in no event shall the state amount exceed thirty cents ($0.30) for children less than five years nine months of age or twenty cents ($0.20) for other children."

The department may expend not to exceed forty four thousand dollars ($44,000) to pay its expenses in determining the need and in apportioning the sums to the school districts and state institutions.

The department shall make apportionments to such school districts and state institutions from the money hereby appropriated on or before July 1, 1951, and on September 1, 1951, December 1, 1951, and March 1, 1952. The amount of any apportionment shall be based on estimates made by the department of the total number of children in attendance at the child care centers maintained by the school district or state institution, and the total number of hours of such attendance, for the period commencing on the date such apportionment is made until the date for the next apportionment, or, in the case of the apportionment for March 1, 1952, until June 30, 1952. The amount of each apportionment for each school district or state institution maintaining child care centers shall be not more than the estimated amount of state aid per hour based on the computation provided for in Section 19607.3 of the Education Code, and in accordance with the estimated fees to be collected in accordance with the fee schedule as provided in Section 19607.2, provided that the estimated apportionment shall not exceed thirty cents ($0.30) per hour for children less than five years nine months of age or twenty cents ($0.20) per hour for other children. The apportionment, except the first apportionment, for any school district or state institution shall be reduced or increased by the amount which the preceding apportionment would have been reduced or increased had such preceding apportionment been based on actual rather than estimated attendance. If the amount of the apportionment made to a school district or state institution for March 1, 1952, exceeds the amount which would have been apportioned had such apportionment been based on actual rather than estimated attendance, the school district or state institution shall repay to the department the amount of such excess from any available funds of the district or institution and such amount is a charge against such funds. Such repayment shall be made on or before July 10, 1952, and the department may use such repayments to make payments to a school district and state institution in an amount not to exceed the amount by which the apportionment to such district or institution for March 1, 1952, was less than the amount which would have been apportioned to such district or institution had such apportionment been based on actual rather than estimated attendance. Such payments shall be made on or before July 20, 1952.

SEC. 22. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

To prevent the closing of established child care centers and the consequent disruption of the economic life of the State by the withdrawal from industry, essential during this troubled and unsettled time, of parents and others responsible for the care of minor children, it is necessary that public funds be made available for financial assistance to child care centers where a demonstrated need for such centers can be shown and for proper supervision of child care centers so that parents who are engaged or hereafter engage in work may have assurance of proper care for their minor children during the hours of their employment or for the proper care of children whose parents may be incapacitated by illness or other disability. It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately."

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, June 20, 1951

*To the Senate of the State of California
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN: I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to

Senate Bill No. 1563, entitled: "An act to add Article 4 to Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to the placing in civil service of employees of certain local agencies."

This bill, with my message relative thereto, I (through my Legislative Secretary) delivered to James E. Cunningham, a Member of the Senate, at 10.15 o'clock p.m. on the nineteenth day of June, 1951, at which time your honorable body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, June 19, 1951

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 1563, entitled: "An act to add Article 4 to Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to the placing in civil service of employees of certain local agencies."

My objections to the bill are as follows:

This bill would make it possible for the governing board of any city or county to bring within the municipal or county civil service system the employees of any district, authority, or local agency not having a civil service system when such agency is wholly within the boundaries of the city or the county. No provision whatever is made for obtaining the consent of the employees involved, nor the consent of the governing board of the authority, district, or agency involved. Indeed, no provision is even made for notice or hearing on such questions. This would make it possible, for instance, for the employees of a school or an irrigation district to be thrust against their consent into the civil service program of any county in which such district might be located. The Superintendent of Public Instruction points out that it is undesirable to permit civil service to be forced on a school district without the consent of the employees of the school district, or the consent of the governing body of that school district. I concur with the views of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and, accordingly, am returning the bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

Senate Bill No. 1563 ordered placed on unfinished business file.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, June 19, 1951

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
 State of California*

Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 279, entitled: "An act to add Sections 687, 687.1, 687.2, and 687.3 to the Vehicle Code, relating to equipment of vehicles."

This bill provides regulations for the security of logs, poles and lumber on trucks. To avoid conflict and because the other bills are more comprehensive in scope, I am returning this bill without approval and intend to sign Senate Bills Nos. 1744 and 1745.

Respectfully submitted,

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Powers asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Attorney General, regarding delivering bills to the Governor after the date of adjournment, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
San Francisco 2, California

EDMUND G. BROWN
Attorney General

EDMUND G. BROWN, Attorney General;
LEONARD M. FRIEDMAN,
Deputy Attorney General

No. 51/122
June 18, 1951

The HONORABLE EARL WARREN, Governor of California, presents the following question:

Is it competent for the Legislature to deliver to the Governor, and for the Governor to receive, enrolled bills after the date fixed by Article IV, Section 2 of the Constitution for final adjournment of the legislative session?

Our opinion is summarized as follows:

There is no authoritative California precedent which furnishes assurance that legislative bills may be presented to the Governor after sine die adjournment of the Legislature. Nevertheless, in view of Article IV,

Section 16, State Constitution, and the weight of judicial decisions in other states, it is our opinion that bills, having been adopted by both houses, may be prepared in an enrolled form and presented to the Governor as soon as possible after final adjournment of the legislative session.

Analysis

The question is whether a bill which has passed both houses of the Legislature may be presented to the Governor following the final adjournment of the legislative session. Article IV, Section 16 of the State Constitution provides in part:

“Every bill which may have passed the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve it, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter such objections upon the Journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, it again pass both houses, by yeas and nays, two-thirds of the members elected to each house voting therefor, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within 10 days after it shall have been presented to him (Sundays excepted), the same shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature, by adjournment, prevents such return, in which case it shall not become a law, unless the Governor, within 30 days after such adjournment (Sundays excepted), shall sign and deposit the same in the Office of the Secretary of State, in which case it shall become a law in like manner as if it had been signed by him before adjournment * * *.”

The above provision does not expressly require that a bill shall be presented to the Governor at any particular time after passage. If the Legislature is in session the Governor has 10 days after presentation within which to sign or veto it. If the Legislature has adjourned he has 30 days after adjournment within which to approve or pocket veto the bill. Obviously, any delay between adjournment of the Legislature and presentation of bills will consume a portion of the 30-day “bill signing” period allotted to the Governor.

The matter was not of great moment when legislative sessions had no mandatory adjournment date. A rush of legislation during the last few days of the session might create a backlog in the process of printing, comparing and certifying enrolled bills; in such case, the Legislature was at liberty to adopt a resolution delaying adjournment until all adopted bills could be printed, enrolled and delivered to the Governor. In 1949, however, Article IV, Section 2 of the Constitution was amended to limit general sessions to 120 days and budget sessions to 30 days. The 1951 Regular Session, now in existence, must therefore adjourn prior to midnight, June 23, 1951. If the Legislature requires the full allotted time for the consideration and passage of bills, and if the flow of last-minute legislation outstrips the mechanical work of enrolled bill preparation, the Legislature is no longer in a position to extend its adjournment date. If the law requires bills to be enrolled and presented to the Governor before adjournment, it might be necessary to call a halt to the process of bill consideration and adoption during the last day or two of the session.

California judicial precedents are lacking. In Attorney General's Opinion No. 25, March 21, 1899, the conclusion was expressed that the Governor has power to sign bills, properly enrolled, presented to him after the Legislature in fact adjourns, citing Dow v. Beidleman (Ark.) 5 S. W. 297.

Harpending v. Haight, 39 Cal. 189, held that a veto was ineffective where the Governor had sent a bill back to the Senate after it had recessed for the day on the last of the 10 days allotted for bill signing during the session. The court likened the "return" of the bill to its "presentation" to the Governor. From this, it could be implied that the existence of a session is necessary not only to the return of a vetoed bill, but also to the presentation of a bill to the Governor in the first instance. Harpending v. Haight, however, turns upon the fact that the Governor's messenger, finding that the Senate was in recess, had retained the bill in his own custody. By way of dictum, the court observed that had the messenger actually delivered the bill and veto message to an officer of the Senate, the veto would have been sufficient even though the Senate itself was not in session (see Gov. Code, Sec. 9515).

It has been said that the California Legislature is not a continuing body, that its legislative powers cease upon adjournment sine die (Special Assembly Interim Committee v. Southard, 13 Cal. 2d 497, 507; Swing v. Riley, 13 Cal. 2d 513, 519). From a theoretical standpoint, the preparation and presentation of enrolled bills are acts of a legislative nature, a manifestation of the legislative process which may take place only while the Legislature is in session (see Fowler v. Pierce, 2 Cal. 165). Quite aside from such theoretical considerations, there are many kinds of legislative activity which occur after and between sessions. Such activities are only incidental to the primary function of considering and adopting legislation (see Rich v. Industrial Accident Commission, 36 Cal. App. 2d 628). By statute, the Legislature has created a number of interim committees with power to act between sessions (see Gov. Code, Secs. 8000-8004, 9107, 9126, 9127). The Constitution (Art. IV, Sec. 37) authorizes the creation of interim fact-finding committees by resolution of one or both houses. The officers and attaches of the two houses have numerous postsession and intersession duties of an administrative and clerical nature (see Gov. Code, Sec. 9220; Rules 10.7, 11, 13, Standing Rules of Senate; Rule 12, Assembly Standing Rules; and recurring house resolutions of each session, such as H.R. 339, 1949 Regular Session, directing postsession compilation of legislative records). If bill enrollment and presentation are necessarily characterized as legislative activities, it is a sufficient answer to say that not all legislative activities need take place during the session (Edwards v. United States, 286 U. S. 482, 490, 76 L. Ed. 1239).

The actual fact is that, following passage of a bill, the work of printing, comparing, enrolling and presenting it is a nondiscretionary, ministerial, mechanical task (see Gov. Code, Secs. 9500-9509; Rule 24, Joint Rules of Senate and Assembly). There is no deep-seated consideration of public policy, nor any feature of our organic scheme of government, which requires both houses to remain in session while these administrative activities take place. Assuming that the Constitution permits it, ample arrangements exist for postsession enrollment and presentation. Section 9220, Government Code, authorizes the Speaker of the Assembly to sign enrolled bills and cause their delivery to the Governor after final adjournment. Rule 13 of the Senate Standing Rules places the Senate Committee on Rules in charge of bill enrollment and gives that committee continuing existence following final adjournment of the Legislature.

In most of the states where the question has arisen, the courts have decided that, in the absence of express constitutional requirements, a bill passed by the Legislature may be presented to the Governor after the Legislature has finally adjourned (Dow v. Beidleman, supra; Monroe v. Green (Ark.) 76 S.W. 199; Barber v. State (Ark.) 174 S.W. 2d 545; Preveslin v. Derby & Ansonia Developing Co. (Conn.) 151 Atl. 518, 70 A.L.R. 1426; State ex rel. Thompson v. Davis (Fla.) 169 S. 199; People v. Hughes (Ill.) 25 N.E. 2d 75; Lankford v. Somerset County (Md.) 20 Atl. 1017, 22 Atl. 412, 11 L.R.A. 491; Johnson v. Luers (Md.) 99 Atl. 710; Robey v. Boersma (Md.) 29 Atl. 2d 827, 146 A.L.R. 687; Hartness v. Black (Vt.) 114 Atl. 44).

The question has had a somewhat checkered career in Florida, whose constitution, like our own, limits the length of legislative sessions. In Amos v. Gunn, 94 So. 615, the Florida Supreme Court held that bill presentation must occur while the Legislature remains in session. The holding was reaffirmed in State ex rel. Cunningham v. Davis, 166 So. 289, which indicated, however, that the Legislature could "hold over" past the constitutional deadline for the purpose of performing such non-discretionary duties as bill enrollment and presentation. No doubt dismayed by the spectacle of the entire legislative assembly sitting in solemn session for the sole purpose of gazing at the mechanical process of bill preparation, the Florida court ultimately conceded that bills passed during the last few days of the session could be certified and presented "reasonably beyond the end of the session" (State ex rel. Thompson v. Davis, supra).

An advisory opinion of the New Hampshire Supreme Court held that under the existing statutes presentation had to occur before adjournment. The court, however, left open the question whether the Legislature could constitutionally authorize the opposite result (Opinion of the Justices, 81 Atl. 170).

So far as our own Constitution is concerned, the pre-eminent fact is that Article IV, Section 16, does not expressly require that bills be presented to the Governor while the Legislature remains in session. Guided chiefly by this fact, and by the great weight of judicial authority in other states, we are of the opinion that it is competent for the Legislature to deliver to the Governor, and for the Governor to receive, enrolled bills after the final adjournment of the Legislature, regardless that the constitutional time limit on the legislative session has expired.

On its surface the legal problem is a matter of mere mechanics. There should be an awareness, nevertheless, of the high governmental considerations involved. The Constitution contains a meticulous plan, so designed that the Legislature and the Governor, as units in a single scheme of operation, may perform their respective roles in the law-making process, neither being able to invade the authority of the other. There may be eras of party struggle, or of antagonism between Legislature and the Executive. No interpretation of the Constitution or the laws should furnish either of these great agencies an opportunity to place the other at a disadvantage. In the last analysis, however, there is a limit to the effectiveness of verbal formulae. "We must trust to the good faith and integrity of all the departments. Power must be placed somewhere, and confidence reposed in someone" (Myers v. English, 9 Cal. 341, 349). We are free to recognize that the preparation and enrollment of bills following the Legislature's adjournment consumes a portion of the 30-day bill consideration period allotted to the Governor. Conceivably the activity could be so slow as to deprive him of a substantial portion of that time. Implicit in the constitutional scheme is the mandate that these tasks be performed as promptly as possible. In our opinion, it is the duty of the legislative officers and attaches charged with bill enrollment and presentation to perform their tasks forthwith upon the close of the session.

A caveat is in order. There is no authoritative California precedent on which to base an assurance that the courts of this State will arrive at a similar view. Nevertheless we have reached the conclusion that bills, having duly passed both houses, may be printed, enrolled and presented to the Governor as soon as possible following the final adjournment of the Legislature. So far as this office is concerned, the opinion is unqualified.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

By Senator O'Gara:

Senate Resolution No. 206

Relative to effecting adequate information to California suppliers and declaring a public policy thereon

WHEREAS, California contractors and labor have complained that catalog references by state officials in calls for bids and in specifications for plans have put California industry and labor at a disadvantage because in many instances these catalogs are not readily available to California bidders and that even when available, the descriptions in such catalogs are insufficient to permit California industries to bid intelligently; and

WHEREAS, Section 4334 of the Government Code permits California bidders to be 5 percent above the lowest other bids; and

WHEREAS, It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of California to encourage and assist California industry and labor in the production and sale of articles, including buildings, fixtures, equipment and supplies, which are fabricated and assembled in the State. For the purpose of giving full employment to California industry and labor to the maximum possible extent, the State should draft specifications and call for bids in such a manner as to enable California manufacturers at all times to compete on as nearly as practicable equal footing with manufacturers and suppliers in other states; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Director of Finance, the State Purchasing Agent, the State Architect, the Director of Public Works, are hereby requested to investigate as soon as practicable and in any case not later than August 1st, the complaints and problems described herein, and thereafter as soon as practicable and in any case not later than September 1st, to meet with representatives of the California Manufacturers Association, the Chambers of Commerce of San Francisco and Los Angeles, the State Federation of Labor (AFL), the San Francisco and Los Angeles Building Trades Councils, the CIO of California, the Associated General Contractors, the Architects Association of California, and other representatives of California industry and labor affected by state contracts for construction and purchase of materials for construction; and be it further

Resolved, That said state officials are hereby requested to investigate particularly the proposed policies set forth in Senate Bill No. 1827 introduced in the Senate of California May 25, 1951; and that said state officials are hereby requested also to investigate the advantages and disadvantages of a policy which would require that use by the State of catalog references in specifications and calls for bids be confined to such articles as are available to all contractors through regular commercial outlets, which are commonly so specified in general practice and for which a catalog reference is a sufficient description to enable the securing of competitive bids from other firms which customarily fabricate equivalent articles; and be it further

Resolved, That said state officials are hereby requested to make a written report on or before February 1, 1952, to the Governor and the Senate covering the following matters:

- (a) The results of the investigation and meetings described above.

(b) What action, if any, has been taken by said state officials to eliminate the use of catalog references which put California manufacturers and contractors at a disadvantage.

(c) The results of such action and a statement as to whether California industry and labor representatives are satisfied that the State of California is doing everything possible to protect their interests in the matter.

(d) The recommendations, if any, for legislative or executive action to carry out the policy stated herein; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the state officials and organizations mentioned above.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO 14, June 21, 1951*To the Senate of the State of California
Sacramento, California*

GENTLEMEN: I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to

Senate Bill No. 233, entitled: "An act to amend Section 13552 of the Government Code and Section 12973.7 of the Insurance Code, relating to prices to be charged for state printing."

This bill, with my message relative thereto, I (through my Legislative Secretary) delivered to Joseph A. Beck, Secretary of the Senate, at 8.40 o'clock p.m. on the twentieth day of June, 1951, at which time your honorable body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, June 20, 1951*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 233, entitled: "An act to amend Section 13552 of the Government Code and Section 12973.7 of the Insurance Code, relating to prices to be charged for state printing."

My objections to the bill are as follows:

This bill would direct the Department of Finance to install a standard recognized printing industry cost finding system for the State Printing Office. It would also provide that all fees and charges for documents, transcripts, or other materials furnished by the Insurance Commissioner should be fixed and collected by the Department of Finance.

The Insurance Commissioner has objected to this bill stating that it is not confined to state printing as was intended. It extends to nonprinted matter, such as documents, hearing transcripts, and certified copies of legal documents. It is unfortunate that the bill contains language broader than intended. I agree with the Insurance Commissioner that it is undesirable to include other than printed materials under the control provided in this bill. For these reasons, I am returning it without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

Senate Bill No. 233 ordered placed on the unfinished business file.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered :

By Senators Burns, Desmond, Dilworth, Coombs, and Watson :

Senate Resolution No. 209

Relative to the adoption of the report of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Un-American Activities

WHEREAS, The Senate Committee on Un-American Activities on June 8, 1951, presented to the Senate a report of its findings; and

WHEREAS, That report charges the administration of some institutions of higher learning, including the University of California, with apathy toward the dangers of the conspiracy of the Communist Party; and

WHEREAS, Following the release to the press of the findings of the committee there have been many mistaken, misleading and untrue statements regarding it; and

WHEREAS, Intemperate and impetuous articles have appeared in the public press; for example, " * * * the now thoroughly discredited report of the Senate Committee on Un-American Activities," and the remarks of a Member of the Assembly as follows: "The report of that committee has not been adopted by the Senate nor by the Assembly. It is just an expression of opinion of some Senators on what I think is faulty evidence," and this member admitted not having read the report; and

WHEREAS, The vast majority of those criticizing the report could not possibly have read the findings of the committee as the report had not yet been distributed except to the press; and

WHEREAS, The committee feels that it is its duty to bring this entire matter to the attention of the Senate, including a statement of University of California Regent John Francis Neylan, Chairman of the Regent Committee that studied this subject, which reads as follows :

JOHN FRANCIS NEYLAN

Attorney at Law

1 Montgomery Street

SAN FRANCISCO 4, June 20, 1951

"Hon. Hugh M. Burns

Chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SENATOR BURNS: This letter is written by me as an individual Regent of the University of California.

I have served as a Regent for 23 years, and during the last two years it has been my thankless lot to have acted as chairman of the committee dealing with the communist problem and the complexities arising therefrom.

With this background I read the recent report of your committee and also the criticisms of the report by President Sproul and by a committee of the Academic Senate at Berkeley.

As a result, I am convinced there is widespread confusion detrimental to the university and that the situation demands an orderly and temperate exposition of the truth and of the whole truth.

Paradoxically, in a controversy involving a great institution dedicated to the discovery and dissemination of truth, truth itself was the first casualty.

Notwithstanding a well financed campaign of libel and slander, the regents have taken effective steps to maintain the integrity of the university and to defeat the doctrine that a member of the criminal conspiracy called communism is entitled to the same honors and privileges as any other member of the faculty.

The regents have rejected a suggestion of a pietistic public declaration against communism and communists coupled with an agreement to submit surreptitiously to the dictate of the American Association of University Professors that there should be no discrimination against a member of the faculty because of membership in the Communist Party. It should be remembered that this policy of the regents was endorsed on a referendum voted by a majority of 80 percent of the faculty.

In his criticism of your committee report, President Sproul dwelt eloquently upon the policy adopted by the regents and upon the implementation of that policy. It is regrettable that President Sproul, as an ex officio regent, has sought to undermine the policy and to wipe out the implementation thereof.

His surrender to a relatively small clique in the Academic Senate has been a most disturbing factor.

The criticism of your committee by the committee of the Academic Senate presents an anomaly. This very committee within the last three months compiled and distributed to the academic world a pamphlet picturing the University of California as an institution balancing on the brink of disaster because of its anticommunist policy.

Accentuating the malice of the distorted and libelous attack, this committee printed the pamphlet as an official university document and paid for it out of university funds.

At this point may I ask you to draw a sharp distinction between the faculty and the Academic Senate.

The faculty of the university in an overwhelming majority is entitled to the respect of all men.

The Academic Senate, which is dominated largely by a small clique skilled in campus politics has established a record of repudiation of agreements and of bad faith, which should be a solemn warning to those who seek the welfare of the university.

Unable to intimidate the majority of the regents, this group seeks to undermine the constitutional authority of the governing body and set up an invisible government of the university.

The communists will never abandon the attempt to penetrate the University of California because of its preeminence in certain fields of science.

The people of California, the academic world, the faculty, the student body and the alumni are all entitled to know the truth and the whole truth concerning the regents' course in combatting such penetration.

Fortunately, the truth can be established conclusively by written documents and records. It is therefore possible and imperative to put an end to the present calculated confusion.

The university will emerge with its great prestige enhanced and the old tradition of mutual respect and confidence between the faculty and the regents will be restored.

I shall deem it my duty to cooperate with your committee.

Very truly yours,
